EDITORIAL BRIEFS.

GLADSTONE will resign.

THE new British Parliament will meet on August 5.

SOME of the private pensions have been passed over the President's veto.

EX-GOV. CURTIN will not retire from public life unless the people retire him.

WE are afraid that if the Democrats continue to fool with Powder-ly he will blow them up.

BLAINE is more popular than ever before and his nomination in 1888 is a foregone conclusion.

SOME of the Democratic newspapers are publishing very silly trash about Gen. Beaver—so absurd that everybody knows it is false.

THE Mexicons need to come over the border for instructions Their Congressional elections are reported to have passed off very quietly.

THE Prohibition movement in Rhode Island is said to have caused the illness of Senator Nelson W. Aldrich. It has a strange affect on some people.

GRAHAM, the enterprising crank who barreled his way through the Niagara rapids, will open a saloon. This is more considerate than lecturing would be.

WHILE a wagon filled with old artillery metal was being unloaded in St. Petersburg, Russia, last Thursday, a shell exploded, killing sixteen persons.

NOW that the Congressional Record has fallen into disrepute with members of Congress, there is ground for the hope that its publication may not be abated.

THEY do things better in Hayti than we in the United States. General Solomon has been re-elected to the Presidency of the miniature republic for another seven years.

JOHN ROACH is reported to be dying at his residence at College Point. Few men have been subjected to greater abuse, and few will be more highly praised after death.

MEXICO has just got through her Congressional elections without trouble, and we are encouraged to hope that there will be no revolution in the United States this fall.

IT is no doubt a good thing to keep cool under all circumstances. But with the thermometer registering 120 degrees in the shade, as it did at Fort Keogh, it becomes a difficult thing to do.

IT is noted that a company of picked men have been dispatched to Mexico to assist Captain Lawton and his force in the campaign against the Apaches. This is not giving the small boy, with his wild, mad desire to fight Indians, a fair show. "Give the boy a chance."

THE two reports recognizing Payne's election to the United States Senate as legitimate, and the other one arguing against his right to a seat were submitted to the United States Senate on Thursday. By the time the case is decided Payne's term will have expired, and there will be no punishment for him.

THE Liberal Unionists blame Gladstone for breaking up the Liberal party. History will declare that a greater master-stroke in politics was never made than that by which he bound the Irish vote to the Liberal party. The temporary reverse only prepares the way for complete triumph in the future.

Sham Reform.

Just how far to go in political work is what may now be troubling a few Democrats, but all the officials very correctly conclude that they will be permitted to go as far and do as much as they please without incurring the Presidential or party displeasure. It is true that the sham reform President did issue a sort of a manifesto the other day in which he took occasion to warn Democratic officials that offensive partizanship will not be tolerated. But in the same production the President said that the most liberal political action will be permitted. Very few of the persons for whom this order is intended will pause long to consider what it may mean or will attempt to draw the line at any action which they may believe will accrue to the benefit of the party. They know from experience that seeming lukewarmness in party fealty will be a greater danger to them than the most offensive political action. Words of reform are expected, but with Cleveland and his party they mean that opposite action will be the more acceptable.

We don't believe that a Democratic official was ever subjected to dismissal by a Democratic appointing power. Even Garland, who has covered himself with corruption which would consign a Republican to eternal disgrace, maintains a bold front, refuses to resign, and doubtless Cleveland chucks him under the chin and remarks, "You stay with me, Garland, and do what you please. I don't care what that straight-out Democratic paper, the New York Sun, may say about it, and as for the Mugwamp organs, I can hold them level."

This sort of hypocrisy is one of the many distinguishing differences between the Democratic and Republican parties. The Republican party makes no pretensions to perfection. But in whatever it does it is open and above board, making no sham show of morality. Whenever we see this highly colored cloak of virtue we fear it covers a moral leper beneath. Time will expose this sham administration in all its venality and that time is not long distant.

War in the Party.

There was an exceedingly lively debate in Congress last week on Mr. Morrison's treasury surplus resolution. It is to use $70,000,000 of the treasury surplus to pay off the public debt. The proposition is in opposition to President Cleveland's policy during the sixteen months of his administration and is an attack on the President. While the Republicans managed the treasury, the debt was paid off at the rate of $158,000,000 every sixteen months, but the Democrats have paid only about one-third that fast. The resolution passed the House by three-fourths of the entire vote, about all the Democrats favoring it. This puts the Democratic party in direct opposition to their President. Is is uncertain whether or not it will pass the Senate, but as the question is not divided strictly by party lines, the probabilities are that it will secure a majority of votes in the upper branch of the Legislature.

It is considered almost certain that the measure will be vetoed by the President, as it is in direct opposition to all he has expressed and done as Chief Executive. So that will be the end of it, as the Senate will not pass it over the President's veto.

THE Williamsport Bulletin says: The reports that the Democratic congressional campaign committee are soliciting subscriptions from employes of the government should be investigated. The Democrats expended a good deal of eloquence in denouncing the Republicans a few years ago for like practices, assuming that the Republicans did ask for contributions from government employes. There would have been ample justification for either Republicans or Democrats doing so at the time the Republicans were charged with these acts, however, for that practice was not forbidden by law then. Now there is a pretty rigid enactment against it, and, of course, the Democratic leaders are aware of that fact. Therefore we trust the reports of Democratic violation of the law will be inquired into by the appropriate committees. The Democrats are particularly anxious to retain their ascendency in the House of Representatives, which is seriously threatened in the coming elections. If they lose, which from present indications, they almost certainly will, President Cleveland will be confronted during the latter half of his term by a congress both branches of which will be antagonistic to him in principles and policy.

A Victim of Partisanship.

The condition of John Roach, while not immediately hopeless, is very sad. He is seventy-two years old and has not time or strength to recover from the misfortunes which injustice, calumny and wrong have piled high upon him. Ruin stared him in the face many times before he finally conquered adversity and established his vast ship-yards, where fifty millions of business was done in fifteen years, 90 per cent of which went as wages to support the families of 3,000 American workmen. But in the days when he was young and full of energy, he rather welcomed obstacles, and they confronted him only to disappear before his ingenuity, courage and will. Certainly that fate is cruel which, after he has founded so splendid an industry, after he has sent out upon the ocean a fleet of a hundred American merchantmen, wrecks his enterprise and overwhelms him with disaster just when his years, not to speak of his great services to his fellowmen, entitled him to a peaceful retirement.

John Roach never was a rich man, as riches are counted these days; and now that his reverses have forced him to sacrifice his property, he will, at the best, have only a modest income and almost nothing to leave his large family. When one thinks of all these circumstances, and sees this man working on a salary in the establishment, from which as its founder and head he dispensed millions to laboring men, and reflects that his present situation of broken fortunes, broken health and crushed spirit is the direct result of dishonest and cruel partisanship, it is a criminal charge that must be brought home to the Administration of Grover Cleveland and William C. Whitney.

Gen. Beaver's Candidacy.

Gen. James A. Beaver will have a tremendous majority next fall. That the Democrats know this and the papers of that party are resorting to all kinds of silly stuff for lack of something important to say against him is the best evidence that they are afraid of him. Mr. Hughes, a gentleman from Norristown, now visiting in Bellefonte, informs us that in his section everybody is for Beaver, there being no dissenting voice.

Yes, you can talk of skimming the clouds from the sky with a teaspoon; of catching a thunderbolt in a thimble; of breaking a hurricane to harness; of lassoing an avalanche; of stopping the flow from an active volcano; of condensing all the stars in a nailkeg; of stopping the average woman from talking; of hanging out the ocean on a grape vine of putting the sky to soak in a corn cob; of reaching the end of eternity or of putting "To Let" on the sun and moon. All these things are as probable as to successfully stem the tide now running in favor of Gen. Beaver.

Cobb-Laird.

The nearest approach to a real rough and tumble fist fight that has enlivened congress for ten years occurred Friday morning on the stairs leading from the west lobby of the capitol. It was between Representative Laird, Republican, of Nebraska, and Representative Cobb, Democrat, of Indiana. The men had not been good friends since Cobb insulted Laird about three weeks ago. Each of the men weighs 200 pounds. On this occasion Cobb dared Laird to go outside and fight, which invitation was quickly accepted. Only one blow was struck, however, and that was by Laird on Cobb's nose. Blood flowed freely.

This fight is only typical of the battle between the two parties in the Nation. The Democrats seem always to be spoiling for a fight, and once in a while the challenge is accepted by Republicans. It is necessary for the Republicans to strike only one blow to send the Democrats dazed and defeated into their corner. Some day they will be knocked out so completely that they will not desire to fight again.

THE Russians are prompt in following up their military advances by establishing permanent lines of communication. The Trans-Caspian rail road is now open to traffic as far as Merv, which was independent territory not many years ago. When Russia has her next row with England she will be in a position to pile up troops on the Indian frontier with great rapidity.

"Barkis is Willin'."

Senator Wm. A. Wallace, of Clearfield, is a very dignified gentleman, difficult to approach. He don't exactly walk on stilts, but he seems to, and all his pet phrases are equally stilted.

But the honorable gentleman, although so stiff, is very knowing and has wit enough about him to speak at the right time. The other day he condescended to make known to a responsible company of gentlemen that, if nominated, he will be willing to accept the nomination for Governor.

Senator Wallace is a very rich man and could furnish a "barl" if he should be nominated. But there is no man in the state who has more enemies than he. His domineering manner, his natural pride and aristocratic tendencies all serve to arouse the opposition of those with whom he has transactions. He is also a corporation lawyer and is deeply tinged with the corruption of former political offenses.

How do you like such a candidate?

Mistakes.

How often just a few misrepresentations will cause people to do what they are willing to kick themselves for doing. This was the case in Great Britain during recent elections. When the new Government is organized and the horrors of a coercion policy are revived how bitterly will the people repent that they did not continue the work begun by Gladstone.

So it was in this country. The predictions of stringent times to result from Democratic triumph have been more than realized and now the people are drinking the bitter cup of poverty and sorrow. The Democratic party, excited by temporary triumph, has lost its wits, knows not what to do, and does nothing Pensions are vetoed, scrub-women discharged, Pan Electric telephone stock burdens the cabinet, and general demoralization exists.

The good time is coming, boys; after a change in the rulers of the Nation.

Queries and Comments.

What shall be done with Canada? She is altogether too fresh. She has insulted our people about often enough now and it is full time for the numb skull government at Washington to take some notice of her.

There was a rumor on Friday at Buffalo that a man named White, a barber, had attempted to swim the Niagara whirlpool rapids with only a cork jacket on, and that he had perished in the attempt. About the only consoling part of this announcement is that which relates to his death.

Senator Wallace is willing to accept the Democratic nomination for Governor, and is decidedly the strongest candidate in the field for the nomination. Coffee Pot Wallace would be easy to defeat.

THE announcement that a dynamite extradition treaty had been negotiated between this country and Great Britain is evidently premature. No such treaty has been signed, at least, but if there is none in present contemplation there ought to be. The use of dynamite to call attention to supposed civil grievances, as was done lately in Chicago and before in London, is a crime against humanity. It can not be regarded, and should never be treated, as a political offense, but as a felony of the first magnitude, and those who are guilty of it in one Christian country should not be allowed to take shelter behind the laws of hospitality of another and friendly nation.

THE Mormons are not easily discouraged, and in spite of Federal interference with their polygamous practices they continue to proselytize whenever they see a chance to win converts. As the fruit of missionary labor in Europe 426 candidates for Mormon baptism arrived in New York recently and 700 more are expected in September. Switzerland, Scandinavia and England contribute to make up this band of pilgrims. The ignorant peasants of the North of Europe and the even more ignorant poor whites of the South furnish the chief material from which the Mormon Church recruits its numbers.

NO ONE knows when Congress will get through and go home, but no one now thinks it will be before the middle of August. It is the same old story with regard to Appropriation bills. They must be disposed of, and they were held back and then rushed through the Senate and House, to be acted upon finally by conferees. Legislation by conference committee has become a part of our constitutional system.

"Woodman, Spare that Tree."

A small publication entitled "Forest Leaves" brings us the information that what is known as "The Pennsylvania Forestry Association" has been organized in Philadelphia. The complete roll of this association is published and we notice that all reside in or about Philadelphia. Furthermore "Forest Leaves" tell us that "in the winter of 1886 a few prominent women of Philadelphia were impelled by the increasing destruction of the noble forests of Pennsylvania, to some concerted action in the way of forest preservation and the replanting of waste lands, in order to supply the timber for the absolute needs of the near future." It impresses us as peculiar that such an organization for such a purpose should have its origin in a large city and that women should be the first movers therein. Such a movement would more naturally originate in a country where forests abound and by men, who, of course, are more inclined to think of such subjects. But for one reason, Philadelphia is a proper place for such a movement. Pennsylvania (Penn's woods) would be a misnomer should the woods entirely disappear, and Philadelphia and surroundings constituted the home of the honored gentleman from whom the state derived its appropriate name.

We are pleased to read that the movement "is meeting with most flattering success," and we are not surprised, as the necessity for immediate and concerted action to preserve to forests and to plant new ones is very urgent. "Pennsylvania," says Professor Rothrock, "is not self-supporting in timber, the wood for floors coming from Georgia, that for roofs and sashes from Michigan, and that for panels and doors from Indiana and other States. The ship timber industry, which ten years ago was an important one in this State, has now gone to Michigan and Minnesota. Both as regards the supply of water and fuel;" the Professor said, "there is danger from the dearth of timber, and as to pure air, remove the forests and you remove the factor that makes the air fit to breathe."

In Europe 28 per cent. of the land remains in timber while in this country only 16½ per cent. has timber growing on it. When the amount of forest lands falls below 15 per cent. of the whole territory "there is real danger. To prevent this danger all mountain lands should be planted in timber and laws should be enacted preventing any one cutting down a tree which is not yet fully matured. The association will collect and disseminate the necessary information to accomplish this result. The hearty co-operation of all the people of the State is asked for. Mr. John Birkinbine, of Philadelphia, is secretary, and his headquarters are at 152 South Fourth street.

WHITE HOUSE annals are dull now, and but little news need be looked for from it until after the summer vacation now impending. The old Mansion is undergoing its annual overhauling. The carpets and curtains on the lower floor have all been removed, cleaned, and stored in the state dining room, the carpets at a cost of four cents a yard, while the work on the curtains was done for fifty cents a window. White matting has been placed on the parlor floors, but the windows will remain without drapery during the summer. The carpets have not yet been taken up in the official part of the house. When the President and Mrs. Cleveland go away in September for their vacation, it is intended to give the exterior of the White House a thorough repainting, which has not been done for some time. Most of the interior of the house looks decidedly dingy in the daylight, and needs to be liberally freshened up. Nothing new has been bought for it since Mr. Arthur left it in complete and beautiful order. The wear and tear upon the carpets during a season is very heavy. Congress appropriates $16,000 a year for keeping the White House in order.

G. W. HOLLOWAY, of Burbank, Ohio, in sending subscription money for the Bellefonte REPUBLICAN, writes: "I want to read how the campaign will run in my native county. I am very anxious to see General Beaver elected Governor. I got acquainted with him when we were soldiering in the late war. I am proud of my old native State for nominating a man like Gen. Beaver for the highest office in the gift of its people. The General should receive every soldier vote in the State."

Poetry.

THE HOUSEKEEPER'S SONG.

It is sweep, sweep, sweep,
Though you have done it an hour before;
And it's scrub, scrub, scrub,
Table and chairs and floor.
And you needn't be weary a bit
To find your labor in vain;
Do it as well as you can to-day,
You can do it to-morrow again.

It is cook, cook, cook,
There's meat and there's bread to bake;
It is cook, cook, cook,
There's pudding and pie to make.
The buttons are always dropping,
The stockings are always to mend,
The men in the field to look after,
The children to wash and to tend.

It is fight, fight, fight,
For a man in the tug of life;
And it's a fight, fight, fight,
For a clean and tidy wife.
A man can plant an acre of land,
And gather the golden wheat,
And get the price in his open hand,
And the price of labor is sweet.

But work, work, work,
Is ever a woman's lot;
It is work, work, work,
If the weather be cold or hot.
And this is the worst of trouble,
She hasn't a shilling of gain,
And, though she may scrub and clean to-day,
She must do it to-morrow again!

Oh, wife, wife, wife,
Don't worry and fret and pout;
Oh, wife, wife, wife,
You are cross to-day, no doubt,
For you know very well your labor
Isn't done for a shilling or two!
Just think how happy you make us all—
Of the love we give to you!

Oh, wife, wife, wife;
If you could not cook and clean,
Oh, wife, wife, wife,
What sorrow it all would mean.
To toil for love is better than gold,
And the way we differ is clear;
The work you do is done by the day,
And mine is done by the year.

OUR COUNTRY.

Not with the ringing of bells, and not with the signing of names,
Not with the beating of drums or the kindling of beacon flames,
Not with the boom of cannon and the flags on land and sea,
Not in the outward glory hath Freedom come to thee.

Not in the whirlwind and fire that purged away thy sin,
But in God's rebuking voice that bade the work begin,
Not in the shouts of triumph that leap to the smiling skies,
Not in the smoke of the altar, but the spirit of sacrifice.

Not in the praise of thyself or the counting of laurels won,
Not in the joy that feeds on the fruits of what is done,
Not in the tongue that cries how dear she ever must be,
But by counsel of perfect Wisdom shall Freedom stay with thee.

By the light within the light and the law within the law,
Thou shalt build her a higher throne than her best of champions saw,
When thy righteousness and peace no word of proof shall need
To tell that the Christ, the Truth, hath made thee free indeed!

IN THE CIVIL SERVICE.

E. J. BURDETTE.

It was a civil service clerk,
A happy man was he,
For under the rules from morn till dark
He must serve his coun-ter-ee.

With joy he hastened to his home,
He hugged his children three,
He kissed his wife, and said, "Hurrome!"
I'm passed successful-lee!

"They asked me 'Where was Homer born?'
And then they bade me name
The man who led the hose forlorn
At the battle of Alicumpane.

"I gave a list of the English kings
From William down to James,
And told the number of Saturn's rings,
And Mrs. Southworth's names.

"About Thermopylæ I told;
I named the North Sea bays,
And then I showed them how to fold
A napkin fifteen ways.

"Book III, Æneid, I scanned ten lines,
And I read some of Xenophon;
I explained the Zodiac and its signs,
And the cause of the choleron.

"And I passed with honor and high award,
And I'll stick to my work alway;
I'm to boil the pitch in the navy yard
For a dollar and a half a day."

Loud laughed the clerk, loud laughed his wife
And the children, loud laughed they;
And he stirred the pitch the rest of his life
In a civil clerkly way.

ODE TO THE PICNIC SEASON.

The picnic season is at hand,
The woods are full of bugs,
The custard pie spreads o'er the land,
And brooklets cool the jugs.
Now let the jolly picnicker
Some newer joke supply
Than trousers all of lavender
Bedaubed in picnic pie.

Our Story Teller.

MRS. GERRISH'S GRIEVANCE.

"Maybe I'd go to Boston with you, Warren, if urged," said young Mrs. Gerrish, archly, standing on tiptoe to smooth down her husband's nodding scalp lock.

"It's too late to think of it, too late altogether," cried Mr. Gerrish, in haste, rushing to his desk and scattering the papers like a Dakota blizzard. "Where is my bank book? Seen it, Mabel?"

"There, Warren; I forgot to tell you, I thought it would be safer behind the clock."

"Safer behind the fiddlesticks," cogitated the annoyed husband, as he tipped over the timepiece in laying hold of the missing property; but being a gentleman, he merely remarked impressively that ten to one he should lose the train.

"It's only eight, Warren. You've half an hour."

"But I've—I've something to attend to before going to the station," he stammered, obviously embarrassed.

"Oh!" Mrs. Gerrish dropped her questioning brown eyes, flushing hotly. Why did her husband reject her proffered company? And what was this mysterious errand that he would not tell of?

"Good-by, wifekin. Take care of yourself till I see you," he added, in a friendlier tone, as he jumped into his carriage.

"Well, I must say!" ejaculated the little lady, frowning after the retreating vehicle. But she did not say it. Instead, she set the clock on its legs again and fell to musing.

She was sorry she had vexed Warren by meddling with his bank-book, but he need not have been so cross. What did he want of the book anyway? Had he not only yesterday told her that he didn't owe a cent in the world? Any why—this was a vital query—why had he gone off without her, too preoccupied to snatch a good by kiss? Last week he had left her behind in the same way. She wouldn't have minded the neglect so much if it had not afterwards come to her ears that he had gone straight from her to Miss Ebbitt, and escorted the young lady to the city. He never had hinted a word about it. Mrs. Gerrish secretly hoped the rumor wasn't true, but it was shocking to have the neighbors talking. And now to think that, after humbling herself to ask her husband to take her, she should have met with a flat refusal. The stroke of 9 surprised her just this side of tears. Was it possible she had idled away a whole hour in arranging the writing desk, and Bridget gone for a week?

Hurrying into the kitchen to wash the breakfast dishes, her eyes rested on a quaint-looking man in the doorway.

"Mornin', Mis' Gerrish," said he, doffing his hat for coolness rather than courtesy.

"Good-morning, Uncle Jabez," responded she, kindly. "Have you come to split me some kindlings?"

"Sartin, ma'am. I suspicioned you must be about out," said the village factotum, wiping his bald knob of a crown, which rose above its encircling red fringe like the seed vessel of a poppy above its corolla.

"I knew your husband wasn't here to do it for you," he continued, putting his hat on again with a screwing motion, as if it were the cover of a fruit jar. "I'd been clearing out the Widder Ebbitt's pipes, and I was crawling along on her ruff, when Mr. Gerrish drove up for Jinny. He didn't have to wait. On the flat of her foot Jinny is, for all her fuss and feathers."

"Did they catch the train?" faltered the young wife, with her face averted.

Then her husband did go for Miss Ebbitt! Uncle Jabez should not know that he was telling her news.

"Yes, ma'am; the catched it. I asked Hiram Blodgett when he fetched your horse back to the store," answered Uncle Jabez, his confiding blue eyes fixed on the sky. "I'm jealous of a shower, ma'am. Remember that pealer we had the last time we took Jinny to Boston?"

"Last Thursday, do you mean?" queried Mrs Gerrish, anxiously. That miserable rumor might be true. She was ready to believe anything.

"It strikes me 'twas Thursday. Yes, ma'am, 'twas a week ago to-day, for I was in the Widder Ebbitt's stable mending her crib when your husband drove in with Jenny. The water was a-streakin' it off o' the kerridge, but he'd wropped Jinny complete, so't she skipped out dry as a grasshopper. She told him she was no end grateful for his care, and faith she'd orter been; for if he hadn't held her shawl round her so, her silk gownd would 'a been spotted hitherty yender."

"What did he say to that, uncle?"

"Oh, he was even with her, ma'am. 'I'm the one obleeged, Miss Jinny,' said he. 'You know you're everything to me.' I lost the rest, he spoke low."

"Yes, certainly," murmured the dazed little wife, absently shutting Uncle Jabez into the shed.

Miss Ebbitt everything to Warren by Warren's own confession! Eccentric and scatter-brained Uncle Jabez might be, but deaf or prone to mischief he was not. She could not for a moment doubt his word. That her husband should be seeking clandestine interviews with any lady was scandalous enough; that the lady thus sought should be Miss Ebbitt was beyond endurance! In her fierce perturbation Mrs. Gerrish hardly heard the crash of the sugar-bowl that slipped from her hand. Who would heed breaking china when the very sky was falling? To be frank, from the time she came to Oakland a bride, Mrs. Gerrish had suffered intermittent spasms of jealousy on account of this same Miss Ebbitt. She had never been able to forget a jesting remark made by one of her first callers.

"Among our village celebrities we reckon Miss Ebbitt, our talented organist," the guest had said. "Really, Mrs. Gerrish, I must hasten to introduce you to your husband's old flame."

"Old flame!" the coarse words rankled. One moment the young wife would resolve to repeat them to her husband, the next she would shrink from alluding, feeling that if he had once loved Miss Ebbitt, she would rather not be assured of the fact. She recalled the nervous headache produced by that unpleasant visit. How devoted Warren had been so grieved by her suffering that for shame's sake she could not have hinted at its cause. Dear old fellow, of course he had loved her then, and of course he loved her now!

Uncle Jabez's distracting gossip could be easily explained. To think otherwise was absurd.

"Jehu! I was satisfied I heard something smash," cried that simple individual, pushing the door ajar with his moccasined toe, and shuffling in, his arms full of wood. "There, there, ma'am, I wouldn't take on so about the chaney. Your husband won't feel getting you a new sugar dish, bein' he's in the crockery line."

"It breaks the set, you see," equivocated the proud little matron, humoring his conceit. Better pass for a ninny than a jealous wife.

"We all have our pesters," philosophized Uncle Jabez, placing the sticks in the wookbox with fond deliberation. "Now you know how 'twas at my house last spring. My wife was sick, and I had a narrer squeak to get along; but now my wife's dead, and I'm out of debt, and I thank the Lord! Hullo! Here's Lunt's team."

The entering grocer nodded affably to Mrs. Gerrish as he dropped his parcels upon the table. "Warm morning, ma'am. Shower brewing. Mr. Gerrish to be gone long?"

"Only till noon. He has run up to Boston."

"Oh, I supposed he was going further. Noticed he carried a valise and got checks for New York."

"Guess he was seein' to Jinny Ebbitt's traps," volunteered Uncle Jabez, following the grocer out to beg a ride. "She started for New York. They're tinker in' the meeting house, and she's free to run off."

"And to stay off for all me," muttered the little matron, sweeping up the scattered sawdust with a spiteful flirt of her broom. "Why didn't Warren tell me she was going? He's amazingly coy about speaking of his old love."

Old love in more senses than one. Miss Ebbitt was 30 at least, for all she would persist in dressing as youthfully as herself, 20 this very day! What ravishing bonnets the coquette did wear, and what airs she put on in the choir, where she always sat next Mr. Gerrish! Often whispering to him, too. Was it necessary for organist and chorister everlastingly to confer with each other? In that case aggrieved Mrs. Gerrish wished that she might be organist herself. With a little more practice in the use of pedals she was sure she could play as well as Miss Ebbitt. At all events she could have played as well before she left her father's home and the dear piano. Warren had praised her execution in those days. He needn't trouble himself to praise it again, if Jenny Ebbitt was "everything to him." What else had he said to Miss Jenny that day? Had she been in Uncle Jabez's place, Mrs. Gerrish felt sure she should have heard every word, had her husband whispered never so softly. Was he at the present moment holding Miss Jenny's shawl about her in the cars, as he had held it in the carriage? Didn't the woman possess a shawl pin?

Ten o'clock, and the dishes unwashed! The belated little housekeeper bared her dimpled arms and made a feint of haste; but the stroke of eleven found her hands still in the soapsuds, and her thoughts in Boston. Warren called Miss Ebbitt a superior woman. Pity he hadn't married her! A lovely life they might have led discussing protoplasm and the correlation of forces, if she, the gay girl wife, had not stepped in between them. Once she had told Warren as much and been silenced by a kiss. Yet last Wednesday week, when she got vexed at chess and threw the queen across the room, he had called her silly child, and soon after had taken his hat and gone out.

It was evident enough now what he went for. He went to invite Jenny Ebbitt to accompany him the next day to Boston. Uncle Jabez had witnessed their return. In plain English, Warren had become weary of his foolish little wife, and had preferred the society of a reasonable woman.

Twelve o'clock! Well, by this time he had doubtless seen Miss Ebbitt off to New York, and he must be on the train for home. She would put the pudding in to bake.

At 1, the usual hour of dining, the pudding was dough, and the lamb not roasted. What ails the oven? For once in his life her husband would have to wait for his dinner. Mrs. Gerrish said to herself that she didn't care. He had been partaking of an intellectual feast with Miss Jenny; he must make that do. But when at 2 o'clock the dinner was smoking in the oven, she chafed at his non appearance. Why should he delay on this of all days, while the heavens bewailed a furious tempest? He knew her dread of lightning. He had never before neglected her so cruelly. What if—absurd fancy!—what if he had really gone on a journey as the grocer had supposed! Chiding herself for the thought, she rushed up-stairs to prove its fallacy. Through gathering gloom she glided straight to her husband's closet, suggestively open. Where was the valise that stood in one corner? Where, indeed? The space that it had filled mocked her with its blankness. A new suit fresh from the tailor's had also vanished, yes, and the bank book! In pity's name, why had her husband needed that? Had he gone to New York with Miss Ebbitt? Transfixed with horror at the suspicion the miserable young wife glared at the dismantled wardrobe till roused to physical fear by a terrific thunder-bolt. Then half frenzied, she lighted a lamp, drew the shutters and flung herself on the bed.

In the grasp of that memorable tempest the cottage trembled like a living thing, and the ground shook as with an earthquake. Older and braver women than Mrs. Gerrish shuddered that day, and she, poor fasting soul, was all alone, and battling with her first anguish. Oh, the cruelty of it! Gradually the storm subsided. She grew calmer. Spent with excitement, she may even have drowsed. Suddenly she started up in a panic. The clock was striking five. The September night was shutting down upon her. She could not confront it unattended; but, on the other hand, how could she proclaim her desertion to the neighbors? Could she ever tell living mortal of the tress of hair hidden among her husband's old letters—a snaky curl just the shade of Miss Ebbitt's? Shrouded in misery, little Mrs. Gerrish buried herself again among the pillows.

From this premature interment somebody exhumed her five minutes later, somebody with broad shoulders and beard slightly frosted with gray—her own husband, in fact.

"Frightened, Mabel?" cried he, blinking at the lamplight. "Why, my blessed girl, the shower is quite over. See how bright it is?"

He threw back the shutters and let the sun shine full into her tearful eyes.

"What—why—how did you happen to come back?" gasped she, fluttering from his embrace with the dignity of an insulted sparrow.

"Cordial query, little wife! I came for my dinner, but it seems I was not expected."

"Dinner!" Mrs. Gerrish choked with indignation. To be put off like a baby in this manner was too humiliating.

Her husband regarded her in surprise. "How ill you look!" he said, tenderly. "Strange, thunder showers should prostrate you so. Don't try to come down. I'll forage for myself in the pantry. Must bolt my dinner in order to be at the store at two."

"At two! It chances to be past five already."

"Past five. My dear Mabel, how incoherently you are talking! Don't tell me you've been struck by lightning!" cried he, in real concern. "Look at my watch. It's just a quarter past one."

One—two—three—four—five—six, disputed the clock below, with lying impudence.

Mr. Gerrish threw back his head and fairly roared with laughter. "Oh, that's the game, is it? So much for my tipping the thing over, taking time by the forelock, as you might say. But, dearie, how strange that you didn't suspect that the clock was going two hours in one! How absorbed you must have been this morning!"

"More absorbed than you were?" queried Mrs. Gerrish, viciously.

"Well, no, Pussy, maybe not," responded her sublimely unconscious husband, with a roguish twinkle. "You see, this is young Mrs. Gerrish's first birthday, and I've been deeply engrossed in choosing a worthy gift for her."

"Warren!"

"We've been engrossed, I should say. Jenny Ebbitt's judgment has been everything to me. We didn't find everything satisfactory last week, and had to wait till to-day for the new lot; but Jenny declares that we've at last hit upon the sweetest-toned piano in Boston. I'm dreadfully cut up because you can't have it on your birthday, but you can try it to-morrow. Meanwhile, here's the bill of sale, made out in your name, as you'll perceive. Mrs. Gerrish, alow me to present it to you, with your husband's love."

"Warren, Warren, you're lots too good for me," sobbed his little wife, with self-upbraidings as wild as her grammar.

"Nonsense, goosie; no man created would be that," jested he, highly flattered. He thought her simply overwrought by the fierce tempest without. Of the fiercer tempest that had raged within he knew nothing, either then or afterward.

Next day, along with the piano, came Mr. Gerrish's valise containing the suit left at the tailor's for alteration. And the post brought a letter from Miss Ebbitt. The writer had secured a lucrative position as organist in a New York church; she must resign her former situation in favor of Mrs. Gerrish.

"How kind of her! It's more than I deserve, Warren," cried the contrite young wife.

And it gratified her husband to see that she put the letter carefully away in the very drawer which held his dead sister's curl.

Pasteur's Method.

Ever since Dr. Mott's return from Paris where he investigated Pasteur's method of protection, the experiments of the faculty of the institute have been watched with great interest by the medical profession. Dr. Mott brought over with him a rabbit that had been inneculated by Pasteur. The animal died on the voyage and the spinal marrow was carefully preserved and used in perpetuating the disease. At first the doctor experienced great difficulty in securing a regular sequence of deaths, and it was feared that the virus would become exhausted. But finally he succeeded in producing a death daily and thus secured virus of graded strength. Several boys who have been bitten by supposed mad dogs within the last month, have anxiously waited for the summons to present themselves at the Pasteur institute for innoculation. The first was Dr. Newton, of Jersey City, who presented his little son, aged twelve, who was bitten eight or nine days previous by a dog that is believed to have been rabid. Dr. Mott, in performing the operation, proceeded upon Dr. Pasteur's well-known method. The virus was prepared by reducing in chicken broth a small portion of the poisonous marrow of about fifteen days ago. The puncture was made below the chest, and the little patient bore the operation manfully. The innoculation will be repeated daily until virus of the greatest strength has been used, when it is hoped that all danger of hydrophobia will have been averted.

Odd Instance of Kleptomania.

I heard an odd instance of kleptomania in high life the other day, says a writer for the New York News. The victim of this predatory malady is a wealthy widow, who occupies one of the stateliest mansions of the west side. She counts her fortune at over a million, and has ample means to gratify every wish. Yet she suffers an irresistible impulse to filch whatever she takes a fancy to, no matter how cheap or insignificant it may be. Two of her most recent theft and have been of a steel bead purses a diamond necklace, the one worth a few cents and the other worth thousands of dollars. The range of her depredation will be perceived to be a wide one, and her ideas impartial. She rarely steals in public places, her forays being made in the house of her friends, and so well is her weakness known that a constant watch is kept upon her from the time she enters the house until she leaves. When one of her thefts is discovered, the loser, what ever the missing article may be, quietly calls upon her and demands its return. It is given up without resistance or apology, and the thief exhibits no embarrassment or shame at the recovery of her spoliation. In the case of her diamond necklace, the detective who was called in, and who traced it to her, found her wearing it in her own house. When she was informed of the nature of his mission she surrendered the flashing trinket, saying, peevishly:

"Dear me, dear me, how impatient some people are, to be sure."

Midsummer Millinery.

Flower bonnets are still exclusively worn. Clusters of bright red pepper pods are seen upon gay bonnets fresh from Paris.

Shade hats with the crown composed of daisies are quite the stylish freak.

Close bonnets, even for very young girls, are worn on dress occasions.

Transparent hats are made of dotted lace over a thin lace frame, and are very stylish this season, as also are the transparent bonnets made in the like manner, and are simply trimmed with flowers and worn without strings.

The English fashion of embroidering the monogram on the lapels of fashionable jackets will probably appear in this country before another season, but has too little sense in it to be reasonably extensive.

What Letters Are.

Letters are characterless characters.

Letters represent sounds which they cannot make.

Letters are characters—not caricatures.

Lovers of letters are not always lovers of knowledge.

There are twenty-six characters known as letters—they bear unhonored names.

There are no two letters alike, and yet few can tell b, d, p and q apart when scattered loose in a box.

Letters have enabled many people to waste a great deal of time in trying to think other people's thoughts.

Newspapers and books are well lettered.

Letters are written or printed.

We like love letters best; so does Susan.

Dunning letters are not conducive to a happy or long life.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

A Generous Offer.

Mr. Hess, of Linden Hall, owns one of the finest picnic groves in Centre county. It is just opposite the grove where the Presbyterian picnic was held on Friday. The Presbyterians were delighted with the grove and all acknowledge that the location, just opposite, is equally good. Mr. Hess is the Republican jury commissioner, and while talking with a few of the gentlemen at the picnic made a very generous offer, showing that he is also largely endowed with public spirit.

He offers to fit up the grove in splendid style, and permit Bellefonters to have the use of it free, if Bellefonte will furnish the lumber necessary to build a pavilion and the requisite number of seats. A contractor estimates that 5,000 feet of lumber will be sufficient. Mr. Hess will put up the building, erect seats, swings, etc.

The ground is level, the trees are high and the grove free from underbrush. There is a fine spring of cold, pure water and a stream runs through the ground. It is about thirteen miles distant from Bellefonte, but easily accessible by railroad, and cheap excursion rates can always be obtained. The rate yesterday for adults was only 40 cents, round trip, and small children only half that sum. The proposition is certainly worthy of careful consideration.

Remarkable Kite Flying.

A special despatch from Romancing, W. Va., (suggestive name,) tells the following strange story:

Amos Evers, of Alpena, W. Va., is the hero of one of the most remarkable adventures that ever fell to the lot of any man. It has been the custom for the male portion of the village to make huge kites and fly them with thick cords This year it was determined that all previous efforts should be outdone. A monster kite of the following dimensions was constructed: Extreme height, nine feet four inches; width across the top, four feet three inches; width across the bottom, two feet; extreme width across the middle, five feet six inches. The frame work was built of tough hickory shaved thin, and stayed with one-eighth inch copper wire. A double thickness of heavy muslin was stretched on each side of the frame, and the place for fastening the flying cord was double braced with yellow pine scantling a quarter inch thick. In this was screwed a ring bolt, which was clamped on the other side with an iron pin. The ring itself was five inches in diameter and capable of bearing four or five hundred weight. The kite complete weighed ninety-six pounds. The tail was made of a sixteen-foot rope weighted with lead. Instead of the usual flying cord, two hundred yards of closely wound manilla rope, very light, but as strong as a double-link chain, was procured.

When the kite was finished there was a general jollification. The kite was secured to a tree, and Evers, who was pretty drunk, watched it while the others were imbibing. Evers after a time, got tired of holding the rope and wound it round his own body. There was a pretty stiff breeze blowing at the time, and when the men came out of the grocery there was the kite high in the air and Evers hanging on to the tail. He quickly disappeared from view, and, as no trace of him could be found during the next few day, he was given up for lost. Eight days after his flight he walked into the village and told how he had been carried to Mill Brook, Hampshire county, seventy miles, as the crow flies, from Alpena. In his journey he crossed seven rivers and two ranges of the Alleghenies. He was discovered in an unconscious condition by two gentlemen, who attended to him and accompanied him back to Alpena. There is no doubt about the truth of the story.

A German University Student.

From the Philadelphia Press.

The statement is made that Americans make up one-eighth of all the students at the German Universities. It is easy for an American, or any other foreigner, to become a student. He has only to present his passport, or a line from the Minister or the nearest Consul representing the nation to which he belongs, and to pay a few marks, in order to get his matriculation papers, printed in rotund Latin, and a card vouching that he is responsible in case of misbehavior to the university authorities, and not to the local police. His status as a "student" gives him many privileges, and at the same time he is not required to attend any lectures or do anything else that a young man in good health and with a fair appetite for beer does not want to do.

Effects of the Imagination.

Chicago Times.

Some years ago a woman applied at a London hospital for treatment for a nervous affection. After listening to a recital of her symptoms, the doctor made her shut her lips upon a clinical thermometer. Upon removing it the patient exclaimed: "Why, I declare, it has done me good already." The doctor humored her delusion and refrained from any other treatment than a few more applications of the magical glass tube. She was soon cured. A parallel case is now cited by the Philadelphia News, an hysterical patient having been cured by magnetism. The magnet was of wood, but capped with metal, so as to seem cold to the touch.

POSITIVE PROOFS.

In other advertisements we have said that the Russian Rheumatism Cure was a specific for Rheumatism, and all its attendant aches and pains. These are simply Plain Facts. We now present some Positive Proofs:

Could one ask anything more to the point than this from MR. H. EMANUEL, a prominent merchant of Brookfield, Mo., who writes Feb. 26, '86:

"When in Europe, two years ago, I tried hard to buy the receipt of this very remedy. I also told Col. Theobold to get it for me at almost any price; but neither of us succeeded. I, myself, suffered with Rheumatism for years and spent hundreds of dollars, but never got any permanent relief until I tried this. Since then, (over two years now) I have not suffered the least. I know it is a good thing. It will take like wildfire. Now I want the agency for five States."

Here is another from nearer home. MR. J. D. WHITE is a leading business man of Bloomsburg Pa. His grandfather, over 80 years old, has been a great sufferer from Rheumatism. Nov. 24, 1885, MR. WHITE writes us:

"Have read your circular. The country is so full of patent humbugs it is hard to make people believe any remedy has merit until it is tried. My grandfather is such a sufferer that he would gladly give for a single day's relief, ten times your price for a cure. He will try it anyway, because he don't think your house would keep anything without merit."

DEC. 21, he says: "My grandfather pronounces the Russian Rheumatism Cure a first-class success. He is not relieved one day only, but altogether."

If you doubt either of these statements, write the parties; they'll gladly answer any inquiry. Our space does not permit further testimony. We have plenty of it, however. It makes quite a little book. We send it free to all who ask.

An Important Question

FOR THE FARMER TO CONSIDER,

IS: What manure shall I buy to insure large crops and lasting improvement to the soil? It is very poor economy to remain uninformed of the quality and character of Hartington Won't Form a Ministry.

LONDON, July 16.—There is high authority for stating that Lord Hartington will not attempt to form a ministry, but possibly may accept office under Lord Iddesleigh should that statesman be summoned to power. The possibility of his becoming a member of a government is, however, very remote, and there is greater likelihood that his public functions for some time will be confined to the duties of a member of parliament. The cabinet council, which it was intended to hold to-day, has been postponed until next week, owing to the continued illness of Earl Granville, the absence of Earl Spencer on the continent, and other reasons. The tories, who are hungering for office, denounce the delay as unconstitutional, and fear that Mr. Gladstone will withhold his resignation until he hears the result of the last polling, which takes place at Orkney on the 29th.

House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The senate today agreed to the amendment to the river and harbor bill reducing the appropriation 25 per cent. by a vote of 31 to 18 The naval appropriation bill was also passed as reported by the committee.

In the house the veto message called up was that upon the bill pensioning Catharine McCarthy. The house refused to pass it over the veto—yeas 122, nays 97, not a constitutional two-thirds in the affirmative. The next message called up was that vetoing the bill granting a pension to Joseph Romezer. In this case the committee on invalid pensions is unanimous of the opinion that the bill should be passed over the veto. The vote was yeas 175, nays 38. The house then took a recess until evening, the session to be for the consideration of pension bills.

At its evening session the house passed but one pension bill.

Disaster to Excursionists.

NORFOLK, July 16.—The particulars of an accident to a party of excursionists on Albamarle sound on Wednesday last reached here this evening. Between twenty and thirty residents of Manteome had been to Nag's Head on a picnic. While returning by a schooner and when about two miles from shore the vessel was capsized by a squall and a number of persons thrown into the water. Lieutenant Chaylor, of the revenue marine service, with the slope Alert went to the assistance of the party and rescued a number of those in peril. Three bodies, two of which are those of young ladies, the other that of a child, have been recovered.

Collision on a Railway Bridge.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., July 16.—Last night a passenger and freight train collided on the Park street bridge, wounding two passengers, William Asurely, of Burlington, who had his head cut and spine injured, and Thomas Sprague, of Burlington, who was injured internally. Both locomotives and a number of cars were wrecked. The passenger train, which was an extra, carrying Knights of the Golden Eagle from Burlington to Trenton, came near plunging into the river, near twenty-five feet below.

Doings at Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The introduction of one or more concurring resolutions fixing a day for the final adjournment of Congress is expected to-morrow, but while the present indications point to an adjournment about the first of next month, it is tolerably certain that the Ways and Means committee will not report a resolution on that subject until the last possible moment. The reason assigned is that if the two houses agree upon a day of adjournment motions to suspend the rules of House of Representatives will be in order at any time during the last six days of the season and the steering committee would thereby lose control of the business of the House.

It is believed that final adjournment cannot be delayed after the passage of the appropriation bills. The positions of those not yet sent to the President are as follows: The fortifications bill awaits passage by the House; the general deficiency bill has reached the Senate committee, and will probably be reported on Tuesday; the sundry civil bill has been reported to the Senate and is ready for for the action of that body. The naval, river and harbor and legislative bills are in the conference stage of proceedings.

The last named has been the subject of two conferences and all but two or three of the points of difference have been adjusted. The most troublesome of the remaining points in the Senate amendment providing for private secretaries to Senators who are not chairmen of committees. The Senate has voted to adhere to this holding, that in a matter relating exclusively to its own affairs the other branch of Congress ought not to interfere. A contest over this matter occurs each year, always resulting in a victory by the Senate.

Soft-Coal Miners.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., July 17.—The soft-coal miners at Robertsdale, in the East Broad Top region, who resumed work at the old rates on Wednesday, after a protracted strike lasting over four months, came out again Friday. It seems that a majority of the miners became dissatisfied with the terms upon which the resumption was effected, and have ignored the action of the small number of their delegates at whose convention at Robertsdale on Saturday the strike was declared off. The miners in general now claim that the convention was unauthorized, and the delegates who attended it were self-instructed.

A general meeting of all the 700 miners was held at Robertsdale yesterday morning to formally ratify or ignore the terms of the agreement made by the delegates at their convention on Saturday. After a short but heated debate it was finally resolved to again resume work at the old terms previously agreed upon. Work will therefore begin on Monday, and, as the miners express themselves as being heartily sick of the long strike and the accompanying destitution of their families, it is generally regarded that the resumption will be permanent.

Advices to-day from the mountain district at Gallitzin say that the miners there show a strong disposition to return to work. Many of them openly declare the strike a dismal failure and are anxious to resume.

Dissatisfied with Teemer.

BALTIMORE, July 18.—The result of the rowing races at Bay Ridge last week has caused considerable talk among the sporting fraternity, and Teemer is already charged with having sold out the races in which he was defeated. It seems that considerable money was quietly bet, and that Teemer was the favorite. He was heavily backed by sporting men from Pittsburg, who lost four thousand dollars in Friday's race, which was won by Ross, and it now leaks out that Teemer gave fifteen hundred dollars to bet on Ross. Teemer and Courtney rowed together yesterday, and were favorites, but Ross and Lee won. To-night Courtney charges his mate with having intentionally pulled badly, so as to come in second. German, the Pittsburg man, was to have taken Teemer to England and back him for the championship of the world against Beach, but he now declares he will have nothing more to do with him.

Down in Mexico.

MATAMORAS, Mex., July 19.—A private express from the Solecino ranch, which reached here to-day, stated that Adolfo Gonzales and Tapias, the revolutionary chiefs, with sixty men, learning that Colonel Praejadis Cavajos had but twenty-five men with him at Encienda, had left to give him battle. Last evening it was reported that they had met the combined forces of Colonel Cavajos and Hernandez, 125 strong, and had been signally defeated with a heavy loss in killed and wounded. Pedro Davila Adolfo Gonzales and Tapias, with many of their followers, are prisoners, and all the bandits with the revolutionists are being killed as soon as captured. There has been no report as to the loss among the troops.

Later advices state that the revolutionists were neatly trapped, as the reinforcement of Cavajos by Hernandez with fifty men, and another force which had been sent south, but recalled, was entirely unexpected by them. A part of the revolutionists have taken refuge in an American cut-off above Santa Maria, and Shoriff Brito, of Cameron county, and his men, aided by the Mexican calvary, have gone to raid it. It is reported that the three revolutionists previously captured and brought into Matamoras last night will be shot to-day.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 19.—Yesterday Assistant City Marshal Cardenas received a letter from a friend in Tamaulipas, in which it was stated that a revolution in that state is imminent; that the parties at the head of the revolutionary movement are paying a bounty of $20 to parties on the American side of the Rio Grande to join them; that persons are crossing the river daily in small numbers to avoid attracting attention, and the revolutionists are massing at a point equi-distant from Matamoras and Nuexa Laredo. The writer also states that in addition to the bounty, arms and horses are furnished to persons joining the movement.

Let it Adjourn.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—In the house to-day Mr. Morrison offered a concurrent resolution for the final adjournment of Congress at 3 o'clock July 28; referred to committee on ways and means. The house then took a recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session to be for the consideration of business from the committee on postoffices and post roads.

The only bill passed at the evening session of the house was one amending the act to modify the postal money order system. It provides for the transmission of small sums under five dollars through the mails. The remainder of the session was consumed in the consideration of the bill extending the free delivery system to cities of 10,000 inhabitants or where the gross postal revenue exceeds $10,000 per annum.

A $30,000 Fire in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, July 20.—A destructive fire visited the Nottingham block, an elegant brick building, five stories high, on Euclid avenue, at an early hour this morning. The building is occupied on the ground floor by Cook Bros., dealers in wall paper; the Otis Brooks Household Art company; H. G. Gaylard, druggist; and Kernmer & Kushman, fresco artists. The fire started in the Art company's store and rapidly spread to the others. The remaining four floors are occupied as offices. The building is new and is one of the handsomest in the city.

The stores of Cook Bros. and the Art company were entirely destroyed, entailing a loss of at least $30,000. Edgar Adams' picture frame store, in an adjoining building, was damaged to the extent of $10,000 by water. Gaylard, the druggist, lost $2,500, and Kernmer & Kushman about $5,000. The building was badly burned, and it will cost $30,000 to repair it. The list of insurance is not obtainable at this time, but it is said that all the losers are pretty heavily insured.

The Oleomargerine Bill.

WASHINGTON July 20.—The senate this afternoon passed the oleomargerine bill—yeas 37, nays 24. Among the amendments adopted was one reducing the tax on oleomargerine from five cents a pound to two cents The second as to the penalty as amended read as follows "Every person who knowingly sells or offers for sale or delivers or offers to deliver any oleomargerine in any other form than in new wooden and paper packages as above described; or who packs in any package any oleomargerine in any manner contrary to law, or who falsely breaks any package or affixes a stamp on the packing denoting a less amount of tax than required by law, shall be fined for each offense not more than one thousand dollars and an imprisonment not more than two years."

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

"Alert" Corrects Some Rumors Regarding the Howard Fire and Gives Other Items from that Place.

HOWARD, July 19.

The reports about the mill which was burned on Thursday last, seem to run on a kind of snake story style—a little truth mixed with a great deal which is not true. The mill was burned, of course, but not set on fire by the smut machine, as reported, but by a heating spindle upstairs running through the upper floor of the mill. There were about 2,000 bushels of wheat in the mill, several hundred bushels of buckwheat, about 600 bushels of oats and some other grain. The machinery was all burned except the engine, which was under a shed attached to the mill, and by hard work this was saved. Two pairs of scales were saved, the safe and books and all the flour that was in sacks. A great deal of loose flour was burned. The mill was not on the old mill site which was built about the year 1800. That mill was quite a distance above this one, from an eighth to a quarter of a mile. Neither did the Longs buy this mill from the Gordons, but from Royer & McDowel. Now, about the man being killed and his brains all splattered over, is simply ridiculous. Mr. Geo. Frank fell from the upper story and was very badly hurt, (Dr. Thomas Rotherock being his attending physician we got the true statement.) He says the man had what he calls concussion of the brain, and further says he would have lived had they not taken him over to Rebersburg through the hot sun. He says he was lying here for about four days and was doing well, and the Doctor doing all he could not to have Mr. Frank moved, but move him they would, the hot sun causing inflammation of which he died. Mr. Long does not understand how they know that he is going to build a better mill right away as this would be hard to do. He says if he builds at all he will build a more convenient mill for the improved machinery, but not better. He will then build a wooden structure and one story less, which would be 2½ stories. Mr. Long estimates the loss at about $15,000. If they build at all it will be right away, as they have quite an extensive trade established and quite a number of orders were waiting on them. We will give full particulars in our next as to the new building, &c. We think the building will go on as this seems to be their wish and the community needs the mill very much.

About the only enterprise here is paperwood chopping by Clarence Cook, who has employed six hands at steady work. Some near Howard and some on the Tipten tract at Marsh Creek; the wood is for the paper mill at Lock Haven.

Prof. Lewis Robb commenced school here this morning, July 19, and there was a pretty fair attendance for the first day—some from Curtin, Marion and Howard townships; also quite a number from Howard borough. Miss Clara Kline, we are informed, will also teach a term commencing soon as a number of citizens requested her to teach again.

Mr. Robert Neff, son of W. H. Neff, cut his foot badly this morning while chopping wood near the wood pile. Dewberries are brought to town by the bushel. They seem very plenty.

ALERT.

A Fire, Social Events and Politics at Unionville.

UNIONVILLE, July 20, '86.

Again the fire demon visited our town about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The flames started in the stable of Mrs. Catlow, and are supposed to have originated from matches in the hands of small boys who were lighting cigarettes. The stable was across the alley only twelve feet distant from A. J. St. Clair's shoe shop, and great efforts were required to save the latter building from the flames. But our fire department and bucket brigade are efficient and work bravely on such occasions.

We notice our young orator and school teacher, Mr. Clark Miller, home again for a vacation, having closed his Spring term of school in Clearfield county.

B. Rich and a Lewisburg party, accompanied by a Doctor from New York city, have just returned from their Benner Run camp on the mountain, where they have been recreating for a few days.

Wm. P. Fisher, the fruit grower, informs us that his apple crop will be light this year, but his orchards are so extensive that with even half a crop he will have a great many apples.

Gen. Beaver is the popular candidate for Governor in this locality, and we presume the so-called Prohibitionists will conclude it is wise in them to support the General, who perhaps is as good a temperance man as any of them, and will no doubt do all in his power to bring about the very condition of temperance which they seek to establish through a third party. May they realize that the "farthest way around is not always the surest way home." J.

The Quartermaster Ahead.

Here's a paragraph which appeared in Tuesday's Altoona Times, written by that paper's correspondent at Camp Murray:

"The inspection showed up some fine facts in favor of the rapid improvement and advancement of the Regiment in many particulars. Quartermaster General J. T. M. Thompson was particularly well pleased with the condition of the Commisary Department and complimented C. G. McMillen on the cleanness and completeness of his stores and the fine quality of the provisions. Each company's cook-house was inspected and the utensils found scrupulously clean and in No. 1 order. Quartermaster General Thompson said he never saw the Quartermaster's Department in better and more complete order. Quartermaster C. G. McMillan makes a model officer, and he is thoroughly conversant with all the details of his position. The general satisfaction of the men with all the provisions furnished fully attest their appreciation of the Quartermaster's efforts for their comfort. We venture to state that there is not a Regiment in the Guard which has more carefully or more systemmatically run Quartermaster's Department.

—The fact that several of the representative citizens of this place have become deeply interested in military affairs has compelled them to absent themselves, more or less, from their regular business. In such instances it is fortunate that they have partners who are so competent to attend to their affairs. Col. Hastings, who is now with the Fifth regiment at Roaring Springs, can give so much of his attention to bringing the regiment up to its present excellent standard because Wilbur F. Reideer, Esq., his partner, attends to all the large business of that strong law firm. Mr. R. is a thorough student of the law and to his advice and judgment the prosperity of the firm is largely due.

—On Saturday morning Mrs. Gleffer and her children, who had been visiting at the home of Mr. Geo. Harbaugh, departed from the station here. Several friends, including Mr. B. F. Stover and daughters and Miss Sallie Corcoran, entered the car to see that the departing guests were properly seated and to bid them farewell. Without previous warning, the train started and the young ladies had much difficulty in alighting from the car, and did so at much risk, though they escaped unhurt. Warning should be given before the departure of trains.

—The Muncy correspondence of the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin contains an announcement that on the 8th of July, during a visit of Rt. Rev. Bishop Rulison to the former place, seventeen persons were confirmed in St. James Episcopal church of that town. This is the second confirmation class within a year, which speaks well for the growth of that parish and the activity of Rev. D. L. Fleming, its rector. Rev. Mr. Fleming has been called to the rectorship of St. Johns Episcopal church, this place.

—Mr. Torrence McClintick of Eagleville, had the misfortune on Friday of cutting one of his feet very severely. He was at work on the mountain cutting down trees when the accident occurred. He managed to get down the mountain, part of the way, unaided, but would certainly have fainted from the weakening effects of losing so much blood and probably would have bled to death had not persons come to his assistance. He is now resting well and in a fair way to recover strength.

—The Evening Express of Lock Haven on Tuesday contained the report of the committee of the Clinton County Agricultural Society which recently visited State College. Of the oration delivered by William P. Fisher, of Unionville, during the Junior oratorical contest, the report says: "That of Mr. Fisher, of Unionville, was a most extraordinary oration, showing great depth of thought and research and exhibiting a natural oratory seldom equaled."

—A special train of two handsome cars arrived in Bellefonte Tuesday a. m., bringing President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania Railroad; Chas. E. Pugh, general manager; Jno. Scott, general solicitor; S. S. Blair, superintendent of the Tyrone division, and Mr. Bechdel, an engineer. They made another examination of the proposed site for a new depot.

—Miss Lily Barrett, of Philadelphia, who is now visiting here, has mastered the intricacies of the Bellefonte Telephone Exchange, and will operate the machine for her sister, Miss May Barrett, during the latter's absence on her vacation. Miss Barrett departs to-day to visit friends in the country. She will make quite a protracted visit.

—Camp William G. Murray, where Company B is now stationed, is admirably situated on rising ground, about 200 yards from the railroad, and it is supplied with excellent spring water furnished to all parts of the camp by pipes. The sanitary condition of the camp is excellent, and the streets are broad and excellently laid out.

—The new tower on the Logan Hose house is mounting upwards, but is not yet as high as the Presbyterian church spire. The new alarm bell will be placed in the tower.

—There will be a meeting of Centre County Pomona Grange, at Centre Hall, Tuesday, August 3d.

JAMES A. KELLER, Master.

—The account of a visit of the Good Templars to Centre Hall, Tuesday evening, was crowded out to-day.

—Mr. William Hillibish, who has been for many years a machinist in the employ of Wm. P. Duncan & Co., has been promoted to be foreman in that large and well-known establishment. The promotion is an honor which Mr. Hillibish deserves as he is a good workman and it was there, we believe, that he learned his trade. Besides, he is a Bellefonte boy and is intelligent, quick and progressive as most Bellefonte boys are. Mr. G. A. Harbaugh, the former competent foreman, is about to move to Philadelphia.

SPECIAL MENTION.

—About the most inspiring and thrilling piece of music which it has been our good fortune to hear for a long is the Benedictus by the Episcopal choir, Sunday evenings. Miss Julia Valentine Mrs. Geo. P. Bible and Dr. Geo. P. Harris are represented in solo parts and render them with that beauty of voice and faultlessness of execution for which they are noted.

Ladies will find relief from their headache, costiveness, swimming in the head, colic, sour stomach, restlessness, indigestion, constant or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency by taking Simmons Liver Regulator. It should be used by all persons, old and young. It is not unpleasant, is purely vegetable, and is not injurious to the most delicate constitution.

—Mr. Andrew Stover, of Curwensville, was visiting his friends here from Saturday until Monday evening. He is a contractor and an expert carpenter and when he used to live in Bellefonte erected quite a number of buildings. He also built about half of Curwensville. He is now in the furniture business.

EVERYONE SHOULD HAVE A COPY of the Mikado, and as the Mack Publishing Co., 528 Washington St., New York, furnish it complete, with the music of the most popular songs, for ten cents, it is within easy reach of all. Ten beautiful chromo cards are sent with it, and they not defaced by having advertisements printed on the pictures.

—A party consisting of Mr. Geo. Jackson's family and their guests, Mrs. Samuel Reynolds of Lancaster and her daughters and Rev. Jno. Robinson departed on the Snow Shoe train Tuesday morning for a day's pleasure somewhere along the line.

The Burdock Plant is one of the best diuretics of kidney regulators in the vegetable world, and the compound known as Burdock Blood Bitters, is unsurpassed in all the diseases of the kidneys, liver and blood.

—The new porch in front of the Presbyterian parsonage is completed and is a handsome addition to the structure. It is ornamental and convenient.

Neighborhood News.

The barn on the McClure farm, near Belleville, Mifflin county, was struck by lightning a few nights ago, and burned to the ground with most of its contents, The tenant, Richard Young, loses about $600 and had no insurance. The barn was insured for $1,000.

Juniata Tribune: While William Crouse, of Waterloo, was cutting wheat one day last week, the yoke became detached and allowed one of the horses to fall back on the guard of the reaper, cutting off both hind legs. This was a valuable horse, worth $225.

William Bernard, a resident of Patterson, Juniata county, a few days ago took from a closet a pair of boots that had not been used for some time. He pulled one on when he discovered there was something in it that had no business there. He pulled it off when to his horror a large house snake glided out. The reptile was killed.

At Spring Mills.

The picnic held at Spring Mills on Saturday, the 17th, under the auspices of the Challenge Cornet Band was a success and an enjoyable affair in every way. The rich uniforms, splendid horns and superior music of the Zion band, together with the red shirts and hatchets of the Logan Hose Company of Bellefonte, were among the attractive features of the parade in the evening. The net proceeds foot up about one hundred dollars, which will be a great help to the boys in providing needed equipments.

Another notable feature of the occasion was the political candidates who were present in great numbers, from Congressman down. Some were loaded with speeches which a slight shower, just at the appointed time, prevented them from delivering. This was much regretted as the people would like to have heard what Jack had to say.

A Handsome Street.

No one who is familiar with Bishop street can pass along that thoroughfare without noticing the improvement in its appearance. Particularly is this the case on the north side next the new row of buildings erected by Bunnell & Aikens, and the new structure built by Mrs. Ammerman. It includes the best, most level and most substantial stretch of pavement in town. When one passes over a good pavement and is not constantly compelled to watch where he steps he can observe the surroundings. The store rooms present quite a handsome appearance, and the business firms located therein have about them an air of progress and prosperity.

The buildings owned by Mr. Brown, just opposite, have also kept pace with the times in improvements and it would be an excellent idea for the owners of property all along that side of the street to erect a row of residences or business houses of modern appearance.

What Gov. Curtin Says.

An interview with ex-Gov. Curtin in Washington, on Friday, is reported as follows:

In an interview with ex-Gov. Curtin he was spoken to about the mention of his name in connection with the Democratic nomination for Governor of Pennsylvania. He said:

"I feel complimented by the mention, but it is pure speculation. I expect to go back to Bellefonte and spend the rest of my days in ease and retirement. I think that the Democratic party, with wise nominations, will have an excellent chance of success. Things are badly mixed up in the Republican lines."

Referring to the relations between himself and Cameron, the Governor said: "I think Cameron has quit, and so have I."

—Grand Army day, this year, will be celebrated in Lewisburg on Thursday, the 9th of September. The celebration will be under the auspices of Post 52, of Lewisburg, and promises to be very interesting. Gregg Post, No. 95, has received an invitation to be present, and propose to get up an excursion for the Post, who will be accompanied by their friends. On such occasions it is always desirable to know at an early day how many will attend, and those who will go are requested to call at the book store of D. M. Glenn where there is a paper to enroll their names. Let the excursion be a large one and the rates will be correspondingly low.

—On Friday evening, says the Altoona Times, as the Bald Eagle Valley mail train was pulling out from a siding at Martha Station, a lady passenger was seen to alight from the train, and the crew supposing she had fallen therefrom, stopped the train at once and went back to see if she was hurt. She appeared to be uninjured, and was apparently looking for something. She had one hand over her mouth and when asked what the matter was, she replied that while in the act of spitting from the car window her false teeth dropped out—only that and nothing more. Putting them back into her mouth, she bounced the rigging and sped on as usual.

The pain and misery suffered by those who are afflicted with dyspepsia are indescribable. The distress of the body is equalled or surpassed by the confusion and tortures of the mind, thus making its victims suffer double affliction. The relief which is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla has caused thousands to be thankful for this great medicine. It dispels the causes of dyspepsia, and tones up the digestive organs. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Beautiful Articles for the Home.

A pretty summer quilt may be made by a white lace curtain lined with delicate blue or old gold sateen.

A beautiful quilt for a present to a baby may be made of nun's veiling lined with white sateen, with rosebuds embroidered on the turned-over corners.

People have for years been calling marble mantels hideous and detestable, and all sorts of devices have been resorted to as a measure of hiding them from view.

A coffee-tinted curtain with the lace pattern outlined with a running of coarse silk or split filosalle may be made very Oriental in effect if worked in a variety of colors. This is a good way, too, of using up the odds and ends of wool and silk and cotton which accumulate in the work basket.

Medical.

THE WONDER

Is becoming universal as to how such an immense sale could be created in Lowell for HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. But, my friend, if you could stand behind our counter a week and hear what those say who are using it, the reason would appear as clear as the noon-day sun. The real curative power of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA demonstrates itself in every case where our directions are faithfully regarded. We would that we might get before the people a fractional part of the confidence that is expressed to us every day in this medicine by those who have carefully noted (without prejudice) its effects upon the blood and through that upon the whole system, stimulating all the functions of the body to perform the duties nature requires of them. Try a bottle and satisfy yourself.

Cold Hands and Feet.

LOWELL, Feb. 3, 1879.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—About one year ago my daughter commenced taking your Sarsaparilla. At that time she had very little appetite; could take no long walks, and her face was badly broken out with a humor. She was low-spirited; troubled with cold hands and feet; her blood seemed to be poor, and she was in a condition which caused us great anxiety. After taking one bottle of your Sarsaparilla she began to improve; and she now has a good appetite and can take much longer walks. Her humor is nothing compared with what it was one year ago. She is in better spirits, is not troubled with cold hands and feet as previously. And I attribute this improvement in her condition largely to your Sarsaparilla. She has taken six bottles, and intends to continue its use. I was inclined to oppose the trial of it at first. I now have great faith in it as a blood purifier. Very truly yours,

Express themselves as being well pleased with our

NEW SYSTEM OF DOING BUSINESS,

And as we are also pleased it is not likely that we shall ever do a

Big Profit and Long Credit

BUSINESS AGAIN.

Our terms are Cash, and positively not over thirty days to responsible parties.

Any farmer that is worthy of credit can borrow money at 6 per cent. and then pay the merchant cash, and save at least 20 per cent., and then if you buy goods at a cash store you don't pay for another man's credit. We have proven beyond question that you can save money by paying cash. A credit store can talk about selling their CASH CUSTOMERS cheap, but they can't do it, and a person with ordinary intelligence knows they can't, and any one that don't know why they can't, we can enlighten them upon the subject. Our experiment has been a success; who knows it better than our customers? We have a Large and Complete Stock for the SPRING TRADE.

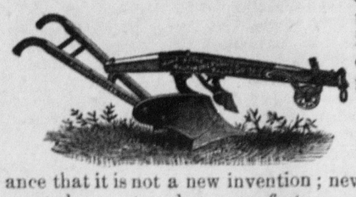
FARMERS SUPPLIES!

PLOWS.



Thorough plowing and pulverization of the soil is the foundation upon which the successful farmer builds his prosperity. To accomplish this, the character of the plow becomes a matter of the first importance. We present the

"Roland Chilled Plow"

to our farmer friends with the assurance that it is not a new invention; nevertheless, it embodies all the improvements known to plow manufacturers. It has an established and enviable reputation, of MANY YEARS STANDING, as being the best bevel land side plow now in use. We assure our friends that a BEVEL LAND SIDE PLOW is superior to any straight land side plow.

The ROLAND CHILLED PLOW is manufactured of the best material, and is of the most perfect workmanship. The parts subject to wear are so chilled as to give strength as well as durability.

Its construction warrants light draft, and it runs so steady that a boy who can drive the team can man the plow—either for two or three horses—and execute the best mechanical plowing.

It will clean or scour in any soil from the start. It is furnished with solid or slip-pointed shares for ordinary or deep plowing. It is equally a successful plow in soft, hard or gravelly soil, and will turn a furrow up hill as complete as on the level ground.

We invite a critical examination of the construction of this plow as well as a thorough test in plowing.

We offer it for sale at remarkably low prices, and on liberal terms.

We keep a stock of shares and other parts for the OLIVER and SYRACUSE Chilled Plows.

CULTIVATORS.

HENCH RIDING CULTIVATORS

are the farmers favorite, and need no commendation from us. We are the authorized agents for their sale in this part of Centre county. The CHAMPION is the new Hench walking cultivator, a remarkably neat and well constructed implement, and is a credit to the skill and workmanship of these leading cultivator manufacturers. We invite those in want of cultivators to inspect those on exhibition at our store. We can assure our friends that there are no other cultivators in the market equal to the HENCH.

One-horse Cultivators and Shovel Plows that defy competition in prices.

HAY RAKES.

We are selling the

CHAMPION

horse hay rake for $16.50, and a better rake for $17.50. We sell the hay rake, which is the best hay rake in the world, at astonishingly low prices.

TIGER SELF-DUMP

HAY TEDDERS.

The large crop of grass now growing, will be hard to handle unless farmers use hay tedders. The

BURDICK

HAY TEDDER is the BEST.

HAY FORKS! Double Harpoon Hay Forks. Price, $1.25 each.

GRAIN DRILLS.

We are the authorized agents for the sale of the CHAMPION and PENNSYLVANIA GRAIN DRILLS. These drills are complete in construction, and are guaranteed to sow grain, seed and fertilizers in the best farmer-like manner. We are prepared to furnish these drills at prices which will justify farmers in buying them. Farmers in want of drills will promote their interests by calling on us and examine the drills and prices for themselves.

Buggies and Platform Spring Wagons.

A customer after examining our spring wagons, a few days ago, said we had the best wagons for the least money he had seen in Centre county.

Auburn Road and Farm Wagons.

These wagons are made to our order; with steel skeins or steel axles, and we offer them to our customers with full confidence that they are the best wagons ever sold in this vicinity.

Fruit Evaporators. The outlook for a large crop of good fruit is very favorable. A fruit evaporator does not cost so much money, nevertheless, it can be made more profitable than a cider mill. An elegant opportunity for families of two or three boys to learn a new business and make some money. Call and examine the sample at our store.

FERTILIZERS.

We sell six grades of fertilizers; we assure the farmers of Centre county that we deal in no shoddy goods. In purchasing, the quality is our first consideration and we guarantee every grade of fertilizer we sell is of the quality represented.

CROCKERS' BUFFALO HONEST FERTILIZER

of which we are Sole Agents in this territory, needs no commendation at our hands. It has always realized to the farmer a fair equivalent for the money invested.

In addition to the above we have arranged for the balance of our stock with the Chemical Co. of Canton, located in a suburb of the city of Baltimore, Md.

This company is composed of the Bakers of Baltimore, who formerly conducted the business in their own name and is a house of undoubted reputation for furnishing exactly what they represent.

From this company we obtain five grades of fertilizers—

Dissolved South Carolina Bone,
Dissolved South Carolina Bone and Potash,
Soluable Alkaline Bone Phosphate,
Resurgam Guano and Bakers Standard Guano;

either of which is of the highest standard of quality in its class.

We sold this brand of DISSOLVED SOUTH CAROLINA BONE or ROCK in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania State College last fall—1885—in competition with two other brands, all of which were analyzed at that institution. The Rock we sold proved to be fifty eight cents per ton more valuable than one of its competitors, and four dollars and forty eight cents per ton more valuable than the other, all of which were sold to the farmers at about the same price. This fact should induce farmers to buy fertilizers from dealers who know what they are selling and have the common honesty to sell what they represent.

We invite a careful inspection of the quality of the fertilizers we offer for sale, as well as the prices of the same, including such information as we are always prepared to furnish thereto.

HYDRAULIC CEMENT.

We have been induced to enter into the cement business, for the reason that MR. WILLIAM SHORTLIDGE'S long connection with the Water Works of Bellefonte gave him an extended opportunity to see the effects of using poor and standard cements. We can assure our customers that the cements in which we deal are of uniform quality and of the highest standard of excellence.

We carry a stock of AKRON, ROSENDALE "Hoffman Brand," and the ENGLISH PORTLAND.

The AKRON has been manufactured during the last 60 years and has been used in the construction of some of the most elaborate Railroad bridges and reservoirs in the United States. Thomas Collins, the well known railroad contractor, informs us that he has used thousands of barrels of it, who recommends it as being a most excellent article. The AKRON cement is being used in the construction of the Croton aqueduct, which will convey water forty two miles to the city of New York. This of itself, is a sufficient guarantee of its superior quality.

We sell the ROSENDALE cement "Hoffman Brand," which is so well known that it needs no commendation at our hands. We keep in stock the ENGLISH PORTLAND cement, the best artificial cement in the world.

We exercise our best judgment in purchasing stock, and spare no efforts to furnish what we represent and trust the community will appreciate our motives by favoring us with a share of their patronage.

There is a growing practice of venders calling on farmers to sell them their supplies, who succeed in obtaining higher prices for what they sell, with dinner and horse feed thrown in, than the same articles can be purchased of us at our store. We invite farmers to investigate this matter, examine articles and prices before making up their minds to purchase. Visitors are ALWAYS WELCOME whether they buy or not, and WE TAKE PLEASURE IN EXHIBITING WHAT WE HAVE TO SELL.

Gladstone's Movements.

LONDON, July 14.—Mr. Gladstone has not yet made any sign, but it is understood in well informed quarters that he intends to resign immediately. His colleagues have not, however, been consulted, and as a majority of them hope he will reconsider his idea, it is possible that the Premier may yield to their counsel and retain office until the question shall be definitely settled by the attitude of Parliament whether the present Government can prolong its existence. Radicals of the Labouchere school are anxious for the cordial co-operation of the Parnellites in a policy of obstruction to all parliamentary action until Ireland shall cease to be governed by alien law, and the resignation of the Ministry may be hastened or delayed accordingly as this scheme is successful or futile. Everything continues to point toward a Salisbury Ministry when Mr. Gladstone shall conclude to withdraw. Lord Hartington still declines to say whether or not he will join in the formation of a cabinet, but Mr. Chamberlain has definitely decided to hold aloof, fearing that through his identification with a Tory cabinet he would lose the reversion of the leadership of the reunited Liberal party. In two things Mr. Chamberlain fully believes: First, that Mr. Gladstone's resignation will heal the rupture in the Liberal organization, and second, that the mantle of leadership so long worn by the Premier will fall upon his own shoulders amid the huzzahs of admiring England.

Severe Storms.

PITTSBURG, July 14.—A severe electrical and wind storm, accompanied by rain and hail, passed over this section early this morning, doing great damage to fruits. The storm broke over the city about 2 o'clock and continued without abatement for three hours, and during that time the rainfall was one and a-half inches. Along the Ohio river, between Steubenville and this city, the storm was particularly severe and the effects of it are shown in ruined fields of wheat, oats, corn, grass, and fruits. Small houses were lifted from their foundations, buildings unroofed, fences and trees blown down, and outhouses torn to pieces. In the city cellars and basements were inundated, but no serious damage resulted. No casualities were reported.

DETROIT, July 14.—Yesterday's storm in this neighborhod was very severe and reports of damage are just coming in. The large hail stones cut down corn and other vegetation, while leaves and branches were torn from trees. In Spring Wells the damage was especially great. Several houses and barns were struck by lightning, and two barns burned to the ground. Florists also report heavy losses, and besides the glass in their hot-houses being broken, plants were stripped of their foliage and torn up by the roots. Rain was badly needed, but yesterday's storm did several thousand dollars damage in the suburbs of this city. The storm was general throughout the state.

Powderly in Politics.

WILKESBARRE, July 14.—Grand Master Workman Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, is now spoken of as the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania. The programme is for Powderly to withdraw from the Congressional fight in the Twelfth district, leaving the field free to Judge Woodward. In return Judge Woodward and other leading Democrats will help Mr. Powderly to secure the Gubernatorial nomination. Owing to differences between the Wallace and Randall factions it is believed that Powderly will be acceptable as a compromise candidate, and can be nominated without difficulty. The Luzerne and Lackawanna county delegates will be solid for him.

John E. Barrett, editor of Scranton Truth, says to-night that Powderly can be nominated, and William H. Hines, of this city, ex-member of the Legislature and a bosom friend of Mr. Powderly's, says the Master Workman will be nominated, and that he will poll a larger vote than any other Democrat who could be named.

Mr. Powderly's friends here say he would only be very glad to get a chance to resign his present position, as he is being overworked and his health is giving way under the strain. If the nomination is tendered him, there is no doubt whatever that he will accept.

An Emigrant Association.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., July 14.—At a meeting here yesterday of the members of the colony being formed for settlement in the far west an organization was effected under the name of the Keystone Emigrant Association. Officers were elected and an executive committee appointed to prepare and report articles of association and to have a general supervision of the affairs of the colony. The rules will be reported and acted upon at a meeting to be held next Friday evening. The originators of the enterprise say that the prospects exceed their most sanguine expectations and ensure their success. About fifty heads of families in this and other counties of the State and in other States have signified their intention of joining the colony, and it is believed the number will be increased to hundreds. Many letters have been received from persons at a great distance asking admission. It is the intention to buy a scope of territory of at least 30,000 acres, and the Executive Committee will be sent to the Western States and Territories to explore the country with reference to climate, fertility, soil and other important matters, and select and secure a ocation. Their action will, however, be subject to the ratification of the members of the colony.

To be Operated Without Locks.

PARIS, July 15.—M. de Lesseps, in an interview last evening, said: "There is not the slighest doubt that we shall complete the Panama canal before the end of 1889, to be operated without locks. I have asked the Academy of Science to appoint a commission to advise whether all seas are not of the same level and the canal company's technical committee will decide whether the canal shall remain level or be provided with locks. I have received thousands of letters and telegrams of encouragement from all parts of the world, a large number of knowing that the monied doctrine has nothing to do with it." M. de Lesseps has also submitted to the Academy of Science his report upon the plan of lighting the Suez canal by electricity.

Up to 120 Degrees in the Shade.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 15.—The hot wave in the northwest continues with all its force, with the exception of this immediate vicinity. Yesterday morning reports from the northwest beyond Jamestown and Bismarck showed that the mercury was still hanging around the 100 mark. This kind of weather is supposed to be doing the crops no good, although it is not probable that much injury is being done. In Central and Eastern Minnesota and Dakota, the weather is more favorable, and the crops are doing very well. The worst complaints now come from Jim Run Valley, where it is very hot and dry, and from sections along the Iowa and Minnesota divisions of the Milwaukee road. Chinch bugs are reported to be working in many fields around Lake City, but are doing no great damage.

In the Black Hills country the outlook is promising. The rain of a week ago did a great deal of good, but it did not cover the entire agricultural country surrounding the hills, and the grain in districts not reached by the rainfall is in very poor condition. Even where farmers have made use of irrigating ditches the grain has been dried up to some extent by the hot winds of the past few days. There is one thing favorable in the situation, and that is, the grain was generally backward when the extremely hot weather commenced. Cooler weather and more rain would improve it even now. At Fort Keogh, Montana, yesterday, the mercury reached a maximum of 120 degrees in the shade. There has been no rain there for a month.

For the Advancement of the Many.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—At the evening session, the house passed the bills reported from the committee on labor: To prevent the employment of convict labor and alien labor upon public buildings and other public works; amending the act to prohibit the importation and emigration of foreigners and aliens under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States; to protect the mechanics, laborers and servants in District of Columbia in their wages; senate bills providing for the payment of per diem government employes for Decoration Day and Fourth July; directing the commissioner of labor to make an investigation in regard to convict labor in the United States. The bill extending the provisions of the eight-hour law to letter carriers gave rise to some opposition and, pending action, the house adjourned.

Storm at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, July 15.—A terrible rain storm visited this city to-night. It was more severe in the western section where it was a kind of waterspout, unroofing many houses on Stricker street and Harlem avenue. Harlem square had trees torn up by the roots and limbs of others were wrung off. On Fremont avenue nearly all the houses were flooded. The damage will be great.

The storm at Hollins street moved northward ten blocks to Harlem avenue. Joists were caught up by the wind and hurled through the air, carrying destruction to windows and in some instances knocking chimneys and bricks from the tops of buildings. At a late hour to night some of the streets are impassable from the blockade from tin roofs and scantling. No personal injury was sustained as far as can be ascertained.

Briefs.

CUMBERLAND, July 15.—About midnight last night a waterspout caused a heavy torrent of water to flow down the valley at Mt. Savage Junction, Md., on the line of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and the railroad bridge was so badly damaged that trains were delayed about four hours. Gangs of men were at once summoned, and started on special trains with lumber and tools, and the bridge was expected to be made passable by noon.

READING, July 15.—At Naomi, this county near midnight, about one hundred men, many of them masked, went to the house of Mrs. Michael Nayler, a married woman, and took out George McNery, a married man, and gave him twenty-five lashes and then covered his head and face and other portions of his body with a coat of tar. Then they allowed him to depart.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Statements presented at the treasury department show that the receipts of the government so far this month are decidedly less than the expenditures and that unless an improvement occurs before the end of the month the public debt statement to be issued in August will show little if any decrease. Payments have been unusually heavy, over ten millions having been paid out this week on pensions alone.

CHICAGO, July 15.—The jury in the $20,000 libel suit of Miss Minnie Pappin against the Chicago Daily News Company returned into Judge Rogers' court at 10 o'clock this morning and announced that they were unable to agree upon a verdict. The jurors were then discharged. One of them states that they stood 11 to 1 in favor of a verdict to hold the defendant not guilty of libel, but that the twelfth man stood out for a verdict of one cent for the plaintiff To this the others could not be induced to agree.

LONDON, July 15.—Advices from Pekin state that orders have been given to the Ministers and the Board of Astronomy to select an auspicious day in the first month of the next Chinese year for the assumption of the Goverment of China by the young Emperor Kuang-Su.

$14,000,000 Wanted.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The senate discussed until the hour of adjournment without coming to a vote, the motion of Mr. McMillan, chairman, of the committee on commerce, to strike out all after the enacting clause in the river and harbor appropriation bill and insert all items now in the bill, except that in each case the amount is reduced twenty-five per cent. He explained that the amount appropriated by the bill under the reduction would be fourteen million.

Maxwell's Fate.

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—Hugh M. Brooks, alias W. H. Lennox Maxwell, convicted of murdering Charles Arthur Preller, was Poison in the Chicken Salad.

MATTERON, Ill., July 16.—The wholesale poisoning of a tea party took place at the residence of Mrs. Wiley, in Charleston, last evening. Among the refreshments was a supply of chicken salad and mostly all who partook of it were seriously poisoned. Six are in a critical condition, but the others are out of danger.

"Dozens of Letters a Day pour in upon Dr. David Kennedy, of Roundout, N. Y., from people who have been benefitted by using his popular preparation called Kennedy's 'Favorite Remedy.' And they often illustrate what this remarkable medicine accomplishes in some new and hitherto untried field of operation. Not infrequently patients come long distances to grasp the Doctor by the hand and express their gratitude for deliverance from pain.—Troy (N.Y.) Daily Times.

—Tickets for railroad fare sold at Centre Hall on only a single day of this month reached the sum of $70.

—The picnic train Friday morning consisted of six cars, five of them being well filled and the sixth occupied by a few.

—Proposals will be received by the new creamery company at Spring Mills for the erection of a creamery building

—Daniel Lilly, an English miner employed in the Empire colliery at Philipsburg, was crushed to death by a fall of slate, on Tuesday, the 13th.

—Centre Hall and Lemont are up to the times. Each place has a well-equipped base ball nine and wouldn't object to tackling the Bellefonte nine.

—There is an infant girl at Dr. A. W. Hafer's house. She arrived on Wednesday and now holds complete control of the domicile. Congratulations, Doctor.

—Juding by the quantity of material company B took with them Friday morning to camp, they have provided for a two months siege, instead of only one day's rations.

—Every time the train arrives over the Lemont road from twenty to fifty passengers alight at this place. We are inclined to believe that it has been the means of increasing the travel from that direction to Bellefonte.

—A brush meeting will be held in Houser's woods at Houserville beginning this (Thursday), in the evening and lasting one week. It will be under the auspices of the United Brethren church, Revs. Wortman and Somers being in charge. It will be an interesting and profitable occasion.

—Brew & McClain have sent specimens of the iron ore taken from their banks to the city for analysis and it has been proven to be exceedingly rich in all that goes to make up the very best quality. There is no better ore in the country, and the supply is inexhaustible. It is only another evidence of the wealth of Centre county in this valuable mineral. We have no doubt the orders for this ore will tax their works to their utmost capacity.

—There are too many Democratic candidates for prothonotary right here in Bellefonte. Their very multiplicity will result in defeating all of them. This "harping" about so important an event is considered proper by one of them because he is a Harp-er, but another intimates that in "Lew" of so much talk on the subject they should at once take Schaeffer. But perhaps Williams should be nominated if they want some one who can make Aa-ron.

—Company B., N. G., went away Friday morning to the camp of the Fifth regiment at Roaring Springs, Blair county. The camp will be known as camp William G. Murray. It is expected to be one of the most successful and enjoyable encampments in which Company B ever participated and we expect that, as usual, the company will gain new laurels. The Camp letters will be received regularly by the NEWS, beginning probably to-morrow.

—Mr. Chas. King of Philipsburg, has purchased from the Steiner estate, 20 acres of new land situated on the south side of Steiner's Dam, and adjoining South Philipsburg. The purchase is delightfully situated on the sloping hillside, and has two small streams of water flowing through it. Mr. King is having the land cleared of stumps and brush and fenced, and will at once proceed to erect a handsome dwelling—the finest in that place. The streams will be utilized for fish ponds, which will be stocked with the finny tribe.

Destruction of a Large Flouring Mill at Howard.

On Thursday at 1 o'clock a fire started in the mill of William H. Long & Co., at Howard. When first discovered it was not larger than a man's hat. But anyone who knows how deficient are the means in that borough for extinguishing fire can appreciate the difficulty that stared the people in the face.

The borough is absolutely with out fire facilities, there having been no tax levied in that place for borough purposes during several years past.

But the good people went to work with a will to fight the flames. A wind was blowing which rendered the work more difficult. The fire progressed rapidly, the flames getting absolute control of the mill building before much machinery could be taken out. A few articles were removed from the first floor but all the belting and the larger part of the machinery were destroyed. The safe was taken from the building without damage. Only one piece of machinery on the second floor was saved. Within an hour and a half the building was in ruins. Three thousand bushels of wheat were burned. The stable and other buildings near by caught fire during the conflagration, but these fires were quickly extinguished.

The total estimated loss is said to reach $18,000, there being no insurance. The loss will fall heavily upon Mr. Long, who is a very excellent gentleman.

The Presbyterian Picnic.

Friday morning promised favorably for picnic weather, and the Presbyterians gathered at the station numerously. Of course, they got somewhat mixed up with the soldier boys, who were also assembling for their picnic at Roaring Springs. The cars which the Presbyterian picnicers occupied had been awaiting them at the station ever since the postponement on Wednesday.

The Presbyterians are so numerous (especially on such occasions) and so good looking that their presence at the depot made quite a stir. Mr. George Potter, Lawyer Potter, Rev. James P. Hughes, Tom Orbinson and a few others made themselves quite useful in collecting lumber, ropes, etc., to take along for tables and swings.

After the Lemont train and also the mail train over the Bald Eagle had moved out of the way the picnic train was made up and the enthusiastic people entered the cars. They departed in high spirits and as a matter of course enjoyed themselves as much as picnic parties always do under such favorable circumstances. We believe that they returned with the regular train at 6 p.m.

The Canada Thistle.

The following from the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin answers as well for this community: "Great complaint is being made by farmers in this county, of the rapid spread of the troublesome weed, the Canada thistle. The law in regard to the destruction of this weed before it runs to seed is very explicit. It says that the owners of ground upon which the Canada thistle is growing, must cut it down before going to seed, and failing in this, shall forfeit and pay a fine of fifteen dollars, one half to go into the country treasury, and the other half to the use of the person suing for the same. Township supervisors must also give attention to the matter, by keeping it off the roads and unseated or mountain lands. The owners of unseated or mountain lands must receive ten days' notice, and if they fail to destroy the weed within that time they are to be fined ten dollars."

Notes from Camp.

Quartermaster McMillen was in command at Camp William G. Murray until the arrival of the regimental commander. He is a systematic officer and has an eye to order and beauty. He has laid out the camp with taste.

The detail which went to camp a day or two ago enjoy the situation hugely after a year's absence from military scenes. The soft sides of the rough boards which they occupy are not as easy as the couches they are accustomed to at home, but they will have a good opportunity to get used to such things.

The ladies already made their presence known at camp on Thursday and one of them, in crossing over a slippery log at Lower's spring, slipped into the water. She was not drowned.

—A well known lady of Lock Haven who is addicted to chewing "tolu" and "black jack" took her gum to church last Sunday morning. Thinking it too irreligious to retain the gum in church, she placed it on the seat close to her and proceeded to worship. The gum was entirely forgotten for a time, and when the congregation knelt down for prayer the young lady was in a predicament. She had set on the gum with her white dress, and its adhering qualities were such that it took considerable tugging for her to release herself. It is unnecessary to say that the gum left its imprint on the white dress and that the young lady has sworn off chewing any more "black-jack."

—There were more people in town on Wednesday than there had been for a week previous. The rain interrupted the busy operations on the farm and gave the people an opportunity to visit the county town.

Visitors Welcome at Camp.

The people of Altoona having misunderstood paragraph 9 in general orders No. 5, relative to hangers-on at camp, Col. D. H. Hastings has addressed the following letter to Capt. Burchfield of that place:

HEADQ'RS FIFTH REGIMENT,
SECOND BRIGADE, N. G. P.,
BELLEFONTE, July 13, '86.

MY DEAR CAPTAIN—There appears to be some misunderstanding in regard to paragraph 9 of general orders No. 5 from these headquarters. We will be glad to have the good people of Blair county, and particularly friends and acquaintances of the regiment, visit the camp during the day and witness our camp life and drills. All such will be welcomed and treated courteously. The paragraph was and is intended for those expecting to take up permanent quarters in and about the camp and make it a substitute for a summer resort, as well as to disreputable characters and mountebanks, whose presence would be prejudicial to the regiment and an annoyance to those we would be glad to have visit us.

Faithfully yours,
D. H. HASTINGS.

To Capt. Theo. Burchfield, commanding Company D, Fifth Reg't., N. G. P., Altoona, Pa.

Camping Out.

A party of young gentlemen started Wednesday for an encampment of a week or ten days along the bank of cherry creek in Union county. This party is made up of representatives of Bellefonte, Philadelphia and Oak Hall, including John Blanchard and Rev. Harris Orbison, of this place; James Hamill, Esq., of Oak Hall, and one or two young gentlemen of the Quaker City, whose names we have not learned. We are not informed as to whether the lady friends of this company of young gentlemen will spend much time with them, but are assured that at least one day will be devoted to the reception of the ladies.

The comfort of the party, so far as cooking is concerned, will be looked after by John D. Emery, a gentleman of color who knows all about what to prepare and how to prepare it on such occasions. The outlook for the pleasure of the party is excellent.

Camp Meeting.

The Juniata Valley camp meeting will begin on Tuesday, August 10th, to last ten days. The grounds are situated at Newton Hamilton, on the line of the Pennsylvania railroad, eighty miles west of Harrisburg and forty-eight miles east of Altoona, in a beautiful grove of thirty six acres. It is "beautiful for situation," well watered, excellent shade, good drainage, pure, invigorating atmosphere. Railroad, express and telegraph offices close at hand. Postoffice, book store and papers on the grounds. The Pennsylvania railroad and branches will sell excursion tickets during time of camp-meeting. Baggage will be carried on Pennsylvania railroad on Tuesday, August 10, and return on Friday, August 20, free of charge.

—All the Prohibition county conventions this year seem to be failures. This was the case in Lock Haven on Thursday, although the presence of Wolfe and another "great gun" was added to the usual attractions. At the evening meeting, it is said, there were not more than thirty persons. Permit us to whisper in the ears of our Prohibition friends that it is partly due to the officiousness of Mr. Wolfe and such scheming politicians that people are losing faith in them this year. Then, again, they do not understand why the Prohibition people want to hold county conventions this year when the Republicans have granted all that they could possibly gain even if their party was the ruling one.

Welcome Rains.

Though for some reasons the recent rains have caused slight disappointments, yet they were great blessings. The parched ground drank in the welcome showers eagerly and a grand impetus was afforded to all kinds of vegetation. The season has been a most favorable one in every respect. The partial failure in many parts of the country and the complete failure in a few of the wheat crop is of course a blow which will be severely felt, but it seems to us that, throughout the season, the periods of sunshine and storm have been excellently timed to bring about the largest results.

Electric Light.

A large and improved new engine is to be put in the works of the Electric Light Company at Philipsburg. This enterprise is partly due to Mr. Casanova, a very enterprising citizen of that borough. The Ledger says that the town will be relit under the new system of combined arc and incandescent lighting, by the 1st of August, instead of the First of September, as was originally designed.

—Messrs. Antoine Cruitz and Joseph Clark, two of the employes of the Bellefonte glass factory, proved themselves to be true heroes while bathing at Atlantic City on Monday, the 12th. A man, whom they believe to be an Italian, was bathing not far away from them and ventured so far out as to be unable to return. He called for help and Cruitz and Clark swam to his assistance. Both of them are daring, skillful swimmers and they would have rescued the man alive had not the life guards also come to assist. They surrendered the man to the life guards, but the latter, in some way, let the man slip from their grasp and he was drowned. Afterwards Cruitz and Clark brought the body of the man to shore. Our townsmen assert that had the life guards remained away they would have brought the man to shore in safety.

Good Health.

The general health of this community never was more excellent than at present. Indeed, the deaths during the past few weeks have been fewer in number than at any period we ever before experienced. So far as we hear, there are no forms of illness of any description now prevalent hereabouts. Everybody seems to be in splendid health and fine spirits. This is the place for visitors to come to spend a few months.

A Vehicle Wrecked.

Mr. Clark Mattern drove, last Saturday, from Mattternville to Scotia. At least, he intended to drive that distance, but on the way the horse ran off and before the animal could be stopped the vehicle was wrecked. Mr. Mattern escaped uninjured. The vehicle was a new one, only having been purchased by the owner, Mr. Guyer Mattern, a few weeks ago.

—Among the gentlemen from a distance who have been in Bellefonte this week are Messrs. R. A. Boyer and Joseph Hunt of Catasauqua; A. L. Witherald, of Massilon, Ohio; O. C. Dewey, Wheeling, W.Va.; and F. Nippert, of Terra Haute, Ind. All of these gentlemen were on business of importance to this community, Messrs. Boyer and Hunt on business connected with the proposed iron furnace and the other gentlemen examining into the new process of manufacturing steel plate at the Bellefonte nail factory.

One of my children, a girl about nine years old, had a very bad discharge from her head and nose of a thick, yellowish matter, and was growing worse. We had two different physicians prescribe for her, but without benefit. We tried Ely's Cream Balm, and much to our surprise in three days there was a marked improvement. We continued using the Balm and in a short time the discharge was apparently cured.—O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

—Three weeks ago the North American of Philadelphia, was scarcely known in Bellefonte, very few people taking it. The Record had undisputed possession of the field, so far as one-cent newspapers are concerned. But Mr. Isaac Haupt induced some of the boys to order the North Americans for sale and now a hundred copies are sold here daily. It is the same price as the Record and many people prefer it.

We should have better preaching if the preachers were all sound and healthy men. Calvin may have had the dyspepsia, but it did him no good as a theologian. A Metnodist minister of Hartford, Conn., writes that Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" cured him of chronic liver disease and indigestion. His brethren of all denominations are respectfully invited to note the fact. Sick preachers are in poor condition to proclaim the gospel news. Sound bodies are wanted.

—Excitement was again caused on Thursday evening along Logan branch creek near A. B. Steele's house by a small girl falling in the creek from a foot bridge which the child was crossing in company with a companion. Several persons run to the rescue although the child got out with the aid of her larger companion.

—The Watchman quotes an account of the Knights of Labor picnic from a dispatch to the Philadelphia Record. The aforesaid dispatch consists of a tissue of misrepresentations "fixed up" for a Democratic free trade paper. This is perhaps the reason the Watchman quotes from the Record instead of writing its own opinions.

—The Presbyterians came home from their picnic Friday about 6.30 o'clock and reported that it had been one of the most enjoyable days ever spent in the woods. The grove at Linden Hall is a lovely place for a picnic and it is to be regretted that there is a prospect that the beautiful trees may soon be cut down by the woodman's axe. The grove has been sold for timber.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFER.

To All Wanting Employment.

We want Live, Energetic and Capable Agents in every county in the United States and Canada, to sell a patent article of great merit, ON ITS MERITS. An article having a large sale, paying over 100 per cent profit, having no competition, and on which the agent is protected in the exclusive sale by a deed given for each and every county he may secure from us. With all these advantages to our agents and the fact that it is an article that can be sold to every house-owner, it might not be necessary to make an "EXTRAORDINARY OFFER" to secure good agents at once, but we have concluded to make it to show, not only our confidence in the merits of our invention, but in its salability by any agent that will handle it with energy. Our agents now at work are making from $150 to $600 a month clear and this fact makes it safe for us to make our offer to all who are out of employment. Any agent that will give our business a thirty days' trial and fail to clear at least $100 in this time, ABOVE ALL EXPENSES, can return all goods unsold to us and we will refund the money paid for them. Any agent or general agent who would like ten or more counties and work them through sub-agents for ninety days and fail to clear at least $750 ABOVE ALL EXPENSES, can return all unsold and get their money back. No other employer of agents ever dared to make such offers, nor would we if we did not know that we have agents now making more than double the amount we guaranteed; and but two sales a day would give a profit of over $125 a month, and that one of our agents took eighteen orders in one day. Our large descriptive circulars explain our offer fully, and these we wish to send to everyone out of employment who will send us three one cent stamps for postage. Send at once and secure the agency in time for the boom, and go to work on the terms named in our extraordinary offer. We would like to have the address of all the agents, sewing machine solicitors and carpenters in the country, and ask any reader of this paper who reads this offer, to send us at once the name and address of all such they know. Address at once, or you will lose the best chance ever offered to those out of employment to make money. RENNER MANUFACTURING CO., 116 Smithfield St., Pittsburg, Pa.

THE LIFE LESSON

Learned by a Prominent Hudson Odd Fellow.

[From the Hudson (N. Y.) Register.]

Mr. John Elting, a faithful Odd Fellow (Past Grand, Lindenwald, No. 442) and a member of the Baptist Church, says: I have been, as most of my acquaintances here in Hudson know, a sufferer from dyspepsia for ten years. Beginning with indigestion, sour stomach, and flatulence, I became so weak that my body became a burden too heavy to carry and my mind was weighted down by a gloomy despondency. After eating I felt as if I had a ball of glowing iron in my stomach; my abdomen would bloat and I was afflicted almost constantly with a sick headache. A lady learning of my condition, advised me to use DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY, telling me what an infinite deal of good it had done her others whom she knew. I began taking it in the latter part of August, and used altogether three bottles, when it achieved in me the most wonderful improvement. I have now gained flesh, and feel stronger, better and happier than I have in ten years. FAVORITE REMEDY cured my friend, E. F. Hermans, of Ghent, of the lingering remains of malarial fever and of biliousness. Mr. Harvey Thomas, the grocer on Warren street, just below the Worth House, says that it has had wonderfully good effects on him. Scores of my acquaintances say that, having once tried it, they would never again be without it. I have given it to my children and found it the best medicine I have ever known for regulating their bowels and purifying their blood. The knowledge of this medicine I deem the greatest lesson of physical life."

A BATTLE AND ITS VICTORY.—"I carried the burden of dyspepsia about all my life," said Mrs. Pierce, a lady eighty years old, residing at Rochester, N. Y., "until about three years ago I began taking Dr. David Kennedy's 'Favorite Remedy'—of Rondout, you know—and it has given me more ambition and strength, than I have had since I was young."

A Practice Game of Base Ball.

The Bellefonte Base Ball nine became ambitious, just like Cæsar, and Alexander, and many others who are now numbered with the departed heroes. In the tremendous vaultings of their ambition they sent for one of the prominent teams of the Eastern League to visit Bellefonte to give them the benefit of a practice game. On Friday the aforesaid base ballists arrived.

They are an indifferent, careless appearing company of young men. They do not seem to be so very high up in the base ball science and there is nothing in their carriage or conduct to impress the ordinary athlete with their greatness. In short, they cannot begin to compare in beauty with the young men who compose the home nine.

The game attracted the largest attendance of the season. On the grand stand towards the rising sun the green sward was black with an assemblage of young and old, plain and pretty, who were making remarks about the ugliness and airiness of the Williamsport uniform and speculating upon the number of foul balls that would alight among them. Dozens of carriages occupied the other parts of the grounds. Of course, each person present hoped for the success of the home nine. Hope, too, is said to be a mighty power, but it went awry in this instance.

The game began. The men in the airy blue costumes began to fly around the bases, and kept revolving in this way five times the first inning. When our boys went to the bat there was no such revolution. We must say that the battery of the home nine was almost as good as that of the visitors, but at the bat some of them developed a propensity to fan the air, and when they attempted to propell the ball to each other it too often went wide of or short of or far over the mark. This wasn't the way with the visitors. They moved like clock work. Once in a while they, too, had to fan the air, but in throwing the ball it always went just where it was intended to go. In this way the visitors piled up 23 runs and Bellefonte only 8. The visitors were lenient, and seemed to be more anxious to finish the game then to play well. Otherwise, we doubt not they could have increased their lead.

NOTES.

Ellis Snyder plays well where ever he is placed and astonished all by the brilliancy of his pitching.

DeWitt made the first run.

Brouse made one of the most effective hits of the day, letting two men in and he also reaching home.

Practice is what is needed.

Although 300 or 400 people watched the game, very few would acknowledge that they were there.

The nines were as follows: Bellefonte—Bartholomew, catcher; Hunter, 2b; Brouse, 1b; Crider, pitcher and ss.; Cassidy, ss. and c. f.; Hoffman, 3b and r. f.; Snyder c. f. and pitcher; DeWitt, r. f. and 3b; Johnston, l. f.

Williamsport—Rittenhouse, pitcher and 1b; Rickley, 3b; Foulkrod, c. f; Fitzpatrick, 1b. and pitcher; Humphries, 2b; Baker c. f.; Donnell, ss.; Hasney, r. f. and catcher; Briel catcher and r. f.

As we note above, the Bellefonte battery was about equal to that of the visitors. Bartholomew, the catcher, cannot be excelled even by professionals. He took every ball skillfully, threw to bases accurately and was an invaluable assistant.

All agree, also, that Hunter, on second base, was one of the best players on either side. He stopped all the balls that came in his direction and never failed to make good plays.

Important Meeting of the School Board.

On Friday evening the Bellefonte Borough School Board held an important special meeting. Some measures were adopted which will be a surprise to the people and are surely of sufficient merit to entitle the board to hearty congratulation. For instance, the general opinion of the public had been that the expenses to be undertaken this year would necessitate an increased tax. By careful economy, however, all the expenses can be met at the present rate of taxation, and, accordingly, the same tax of ten mills will be levied this year.

This will enable the Board to expend $16,000 on a new school house (although it will probably cost less than that sum), and will also enable them to pay off $1,000 of the old debt and an equal amount of the new debt. It was a good stroke of policy, some time ago, which led the Board to adopt a resolution creating a sinking fund devoting $1,000 per year toward the reduction of the old debt, and the resolution will be rigidly adhered to.

Still another expense provided this year, is that of re-furnishing five rooms in the old school building.

The Board sees its way clear in the future. Next year it may be able to reduce the rate of tax, and this reduction will certainly be accomplished the following year.

Notes from Camp Murray.

Colonel Hastings inspected the camp Friday evening and was well pleased.

Company B has 60 men, 3 officers and 2 servants in camp.

Temporary Commander McMillen and Lieutenant Geissinger slept well and long after their hard work in putting the camp in condition.

Our Letter from Camp William G. Murray.

ROARING SPRINGS, July 17.

The Fifth regiment, N. G. P., went into camp at this place to-day, with the following field and staff officers.

Col. D. H. Hastings, Lieut. Col. John S. Garrett, Major S. S. Stottler, Surgeon A. S. Strayer, Asst. Surgeon N. F. Ahrenfeld, Asst. Surgeon T. M. Christy, Chaplain Charles M. Stock, Quartermaster C. G. McMillen, Adjutant H. S. Hale.

The camp is situated on a slightly elevated location with a copse of maple trees for shade, and not far from the springs. Much praise is due Col. Hastings for his good judgment in selecting this place, which is one of the most beautiful spots on which the Fifth ever pitched its tents. The men are completely sheltered from the rays of Old Sol and the present indications are that our surgeons will have little to do. The country abounds with the rich bloom of highly cultivated fields and pure air sweeps down from the many mountains which lift their lofty heads to the sky.

A genial hospitality has been extended to the boys in blue by the citizens of this community, and through the very able management of our Quartermaster C. G. McMillen, assisted by Lieut. Geissinger, the camp has been laid out in grand style, everything being in readiness on the arrival of the boys in camp. The water supply is plentiful, being forced into camp by a stationary engine.

The routine of business has already been mapped out by Col. Hastings. Discipline and gentlemanly bearing will be the rule, which will be enforced, and by obeying the orders the standard of the Fifth regiment will be advanced to the front of the National Guard of Pennsylvania. The Fifth regiment outranks any regiment in the State in the attendance, the number of officers and men enrolled being 518. Preparations are being made to day for the annual review by Gov. Pattison and staff, which occurs on Monday, and the boys are at work in making everything as bright as possible for that event.

NOTES.

The heads of Company B commanders are adorned by the regular English helmet hat and look quite nobby.

The police gang displayed their special qualities as workmen in and around camp after our arrival here, Scott Harris being conspicuous among them.

Good work was done by our advance squad who preceded us in camp, and praise is due to Lieut. Geissinger for the work which he has so ably performed.

The terrors to the boys (the yellow bellies as they are called) put in their appearance, so a great deal of fun may be looked for in this quarter.

Artist Hilder is preparing a sketch of the camp which will be published as soon as completed.

Jake Showers is filling the position of 1st Sergeant like a veteran.

At the present writing Co. B and Co. A are playing a game of base ball. I will report the score in my next letter.

SUPERIOR CO.

ROARING SPRINGS, July 19.

The Fifth regiment has finally settled down to business, and the duties which have been assigned to the different commands are being accomplished—like a little soldier. The routine, although not burdensome, is being rigidly enforced. The handsome figure of Col. Hastings seems to be omnipresent, and he has detected several disobeying orders. He is, however, usually more ready to forgive than punish.

Sunday was observed with special decorum in camp, Captain Burchfield being the officer of the day. As early as seven o'clock visitors began to pour into camp from the rural districts, and at nine o'clock a special train of nineteen cars came from Altoona and other points. This brought a great throng of people, composed largely of ladies, who are always welcome at camp. At 11 o'clock the vast assembly gathered in front of the Colonel's headquarters, where sacred services were held, conducted by the Regimental Chaplain Rev. Stock. His text was from Numbers 13:30. The sermon treated of Caleb, the valliant soldier The sermon was able and was listened to with intense interest by the vast multitude. The quiet of the day was disturbed only once, and that was by a few roughs who visited the camp with the object of running things. They wore sunflower button-hole bouquets. They reckoned without their host as the blue coats pounced upon them with as much assurance as an eagle siezes his prey. For a while there was scene of tumult and then the aesthetic cranks were routed, foot, horse and dragoon, and driven from camp. The Sheridan troop are constantly creating a panic among the boys, their duties being principally as patrol and to arrest camp jumpers after roll call.

The regiment was inspected, this morning, by Gov. Pattison and staff, accompanied by officers of the 1st and 3d brigades, and Major W. J. Volkmar, Assistant Adjutant General of the U. S. Infantry, who is stationed at Washington. The inspection was conducted by Adjutant General Guthrie. The Fifth never looked grander than it did to-day, every man making a creditable appearance, and when the inspection reports are summed up the Fifth regiment will be found at the top of the list. After inspection, Gov. Pattison and staff were dined by Col. Hastings at headquarters. One of the best orders of the camp is that prohibiting venders from plying their trade within the bounds of camp; consequently, the town is over-run with them.

NOTES.

Gov. Pattison and staff were escorted into camp by the Sheridan troop and upon adjutant H. S. Hale was conferred the honor of riding alongside the Governor in the escort. The Governor was mounted on the Colonel's charger.

Captain Mullen is adorned with the red sash to-day, being designated as officer of the day, and you can bet that things will be run according to Hoyle.

Among the lady visitors at camp are Mrs. Amos Mullen, Mrs. W. F. Reber and Mrs. Wm. Lyon.

Assistant Adjutant General Keller, of the 2d brigade, is looking after the interests of the brigade here, accompanied by Major Hill.

Cook has grown shorter. Cause, 30 hours on guard. But, all the same, he is a daisy sentinel.

Lieut. Geissinger was in charge of a patrol last night at midnight with the intention of making a clear sweep of marauders in the town. Result, no capture—all sore-footed.

Poor Quigley!

Adjutant General Guthrie, after the examination of Co. B's arms, remarked to one of the accompanying staff officers that he never handled a finer set of guns than ours. SUPERIOR.

ROARING SPRINGS, July 20.

The weather is still fine here and the crowds continue to pour into camp on the arrival of every train. Since the departure of the Governor from camp things have become quiet. The sentinel can be seen at all times parading his post and observing all calls and necessary instructions becoming a sentry. At night after roll call the boys can be seen in groups arranging their various plans for jumping the guard line and going to town to seek what may be obtained by foraging.

At 12 o'clock the other night a citizen of the town came into camp, half clad and breathless. He solicited protection, as the boys, he said, were disturbing his rest and destroying the fences. Lieut. Geissinger provided him a patrol, and upon the arrival of the patrol at his residence no sign of marauders or destruction of property could be seen. In fact, the man was terribly scared and his imagination led him to believe he was to be raided. No citizens have yet made complaints of the soldiers, and all unite in hearty praise of the way the boys are conducting themselves.

This morning a non-commissioned officers' school was held in front of the Colonel's headquarters, the instructor being Lieutenant Paige, of the 15th United States Infantry, stationed at the Pennsylvania State College. His valuable instructions were listened to with much profit, the school obtaining many new points which will be of practical benefit.

The evening dress parades and battalion drills are witnessed by a large concourse of people. The camp abounds with a great number of gymnasts and local sparrers, and their spare time is devoted to horizontal bar performances, boxing matches and various games which require strength and dexterity.

CO. B. NOTES.

Lieut. Reber to-day fills the position of lieutenant of the guard, and under his guidance the guards will be thoroughly posted.

Private Murphy continually keeps the camp awake with melodious sonnets, rendered during the night.

Company B has the best cook in the regiment in the person of Billy McCuen, of Unionville. Billy has excellent experience in this line, having cocked for John Ardell's log camps. He is also a general favorite among the boys.

Sergeant Phillips fills his old position in camp, assisting to dish out hash to the boys.

Private Jimmy Hughes is on the sick list to-day. By the way, ask Jim how that Altoona mash is? Rats!

The boys are all anxious to hear the results of the inspection, for we feel that the trophy will fall to Company B.

Private Harry Green is company clerk and under his guidance the boys signed the pay roll yesterday.

Company B street is deserted to-day, those who have leave of absence going to Hollidaysburg on an excursion.

Major Austin Curtin of the 2d brigade was in camp yesterday.

George Chase is detailed as corporal of the guard to-morrow.

Private John Bartruff was on for a brief stay. Nearly half of his time here was occupied with camp duty.

The Borough Police.

The Chief Burgess, on Monday evening, addressed a communication to the Town Council, which we copy as follows:

To the Honorable, the Town Council of Bellefonte: GENTLEMEN.—For some time past there have been rumors abroad that your honorable body contemplated a reduction of the present police force from three officers to two. I most emphatically protest against any such reduction. For the past three months our town has been remarkably quiet and peaceable, and if it is desirable that such a state of affair should continue, retain the present efficient force. If our town can purchase peace and quietness at $60 per month it seems to me to be a false political economy to save $15 per month at the expense of the annoyance that would necessarily follow and would have to be borne by our law-abiding citizens.

Some people may think that we can go on the street at any hour of the day and pick up a good man for the large (?) salary of $15 per month, administer an oath, give him a billy, and turn him loose upon the community, an efficient, full-fledged officer. This view of the matter is simply absurd to the mind of any well-thinking man, yet there are many who take this view of the subject.

* * * * * * * *

A good, efficient officer is always unpopular among certain classes, and they exercise more or less influence with good, well-thinking citizens.

I, therefore, trust that your honorable body will continue the force as it is.

I am, gentlemen,
Very respectfully,
Your ob't serv't,
H. S. HALE,
Chief Burgess.
